EDUCATORS GIVE HELPFUL TALKS

Profs. Lowes and Black Continue Topics Treated at Opening of Institute

ABSENTEES ARE VERY FEW

Gratifying Interest Shown by Teachers -- Lecture by Rev. Motschman.

Deep interest is being manifested by the teachers of Allen county in the sessions of the institute at Westminster Presbyterian church and the lectures by Prof. W. W. Black, of Chicago, and Prof. J. L. Lowes, of Madison, Ind., are listened to with the most careful attention.

MORNING SESSION.

Rev. J. Webster Bailey, of Plymouth Congregational church, conducted the devotional exercises at the opening of today's session and Prof. William Miles led the singing.

The subject of Prof. Black's talk was 'The Organic Element of the School," and in his lecture he treated the relations between the pupil and the school subject, making the central point that to interpret a thing is to reproduce it in thought, taking as an illustration the phonograph. The teacher should bend his efforts to retrace in the child's thoughts the process by which the instrument is made and to explain each part in relation to the other parts in the light of the purpose of the whole machine.

Prof. Black endeavored to show how the same method could be pursued in teaching arithmetic, geography, spelling and other branches of the school curriculum, giving numerous illustrations of how best the method could be followed. His afternoon talk was along the same line in the general subject of "The Science and Art of Instruction."

PROF. LOWES' TALK.

"The Elements of Significance in Speech," was Prof. Lowes' subject, his talk being a continuation of yesterday's lecture. The attuning of speech, covering emphasis, punctuation and phrasing was taken by him and he sought to impress on the teachers the necessity of thorough elementary instruction that the pupil would be enabled to read with an intelligent understanding of the printed page, instead of reading in parrot fashion.

Where the pupil is thoroughly conversant with the elementary principles intelligent interpretation is natural as the child is able to follow the thought expressed by the writer. Emphasis, phrasing, and punctuation then become instinctive. The pupil not familiar with the principles is accustomed to read in a monotone without understanding what he is reading about.

Prof. Lowes said that there was a narrow inner circle of words in general use, and easily understood, and a great outer circle, understood by the many when seen with their proper context, but which are not used generally because of a lack of complete familiarity with their meaning. Prof. Lowes believes that the pupil will more readily grasp the meaning of the less used words if they are studied with reference to their context, rather than by sending the child to the dictionary to look it up.

This evening, Rev. L. J. Motschman, pastor of Christ's Lutheran church, will deliver a lecture on "Dreams and Dreamland."

STRENUOUS DAYS AT PORT ARTHUR

Newspaper Describes Scenes Attending Siege of Fort by Japanese.

HEROIC DARING COMMON

Japs Who Penetrated Fort are Bayonetted Where They Stand.

Che Foo, Aug. 30.—7:30 p. m.—The Port Arthur Novi Krai in its issue of Aug. 26, speaking of the incidents of the siege occurring between Aug. 22 and Aug. 23, makes no mention of any general assault during that period but records several desperate attacks on the Russian position. The Russian consul at Che Foo says the Novi Krai relates only facts but colors them with the intention of inspiring the garrison and inspiring the troops to the emulation of heroic deeds. Following a grand three days' assault on the defenses of Port Arthur, the Japanese rested during the daytime of Aug. 23. At 11 o'clock that night they concentrated a strong force to attack the Zarodoutni fort, which is a strong position on the Russian right flank.

IN INDIAN FASHION.

The Japanese made clever use of the available cover, creeping forward in Indian fashion for one hour in spite of the Rusian rifle fire. Midnight found them properly formed within striking distance of the fortifications. They then made a powerful rush but were mowed down in all but one quarter. Here a body of Japanese succeeded in entering the fort over the dead bodies of their comrades but nearly all were bayonetted inside the fort. The remnant retreated, losing severely as they fled. After repulsing the enemy the Russian troops cheered. The Japanese searchlights showed ghastly heaps of dead, like magic-lantern pictures. The Japanese soon were reinforced and recommenced the attack furiously but again were repulsed.

UNDER THEIR OWN FIRE.

The Novi Krai soberly asserts that the Japanese troops were forced forward by their own schrapnel fire, the guns having been placed behind them to prevent a retreat. A third attempt to capture the position also failed and anticipating a fourth attack the Russians were reinforced but the fourth attack was not made. The Zaredoutni presented to the Japanese a high stone wall of Chinese construction and the fact that one detachment succeeded in scaling it is accounted marvelous. Daylight found the belligerents in that quarter engaged in an artillery duel. General Gorbatowsky personally directed the Russian fire although he had been six days and six nights without sleep.

The fort suffered considerably from the Japanese artillery and General Gorbatowsky ordered the garrison into undamaged trenches.

ATTACK IS RENEWED.

The next glimpse the Russians had of the Japanese was at 10 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 24, when a mountain battery on mules was seen in motion. The Russians opened fire on this battery and dispersed it. At

BOXER REVIVAL BEGUN IN CHINA

Twenty American Missionaries Are Compelled to Evacuate Taming Fu to Escape Massacre

Shanghai, Aug. 30.—A revival of boxerism is reported from Taming Fu, in the southwestern part of Pechili province, 215 miles from Tien Tsin. Over twenty American missionaries, including women and children, have been obliged to evacuate Taming Fu owing to an intended massacre on the part of the boxers, who call themselves "Tai Yun." The local telegraph company refused to transmit a message from these missionaries to American Minister Conger at Pekin. Fortunately, however, an English friend in Honan forwarded their message, whereupon Yuan Shika, viceroy of Pechili province, dispatched urgent orders for their protection.

In view of the fact that the local authorities gave them protection and there was no hope of continuing their work the missionaries came out. They traveled in safety.

Grave doubts are felt in some quarters here as to the real intentions of Tie Hiang, who is at present absent from Pekin on a visit to the southern provinces. A similar mission undertaken by Kang Yi before the boxer rising is recalled.

FORMER SULTAN OF TURKEY DEAD

Murad V., Brother of Present Ruler of Ottoman Empire Succumbs to Disease

WAS LONG A PRISONER

Dethroned by Abdul Hamid, He Was Known as Turkish Man in the Iron Mask.

Constantinople, Aug. 30.—Former Sultan Murad V., died yesterday of diabetes from which he had long suffered.

The remains of Former Sultan Murad were interred today in the Yenijami mausoleum at Stamboul, where his mother is buried.

Murad V. was born in 1840 and ascended the throne after the murder of the sultan, Abdul Aziz, in May, 1876. In July of that year Murad was placed under the regency of his brother, the present sultan, Abdul Hamid II., and on Aug. 31 he was dethroned. Outwardly this act was performed legally by the council of ministers on the ground that he was insane. The real facts in the case, however, will probably never be known, but it has been declared that Murad was a good deal more sane than his brother and one of the greatest terrors of Abdul Hamid's existence was the fear that this Turkish "man with the iron mask," as he had been termed, might escape from his place of confinement in the Cheragan palace and some six years ago he was removed to the Malta Kiosk in the grounds of the Yildiz palace, occupied by Abdul Hamid, which is surrounded by lofty walls. In spite of the secrecy of Murad's removal he was seen as he passed by several foreigners, who declared that though he had aged, the former sultan had not lost his majestic bearing and appeared to be in full possession of his mental faculties.

RUSS AND JAP HAVE MET IN DECISIVE ENGAGEMENT

Four Hundred Thousand Men are Fighting Desperately in One of the Greatest Battles of Modern Times and the Event Will be Historic.

JAPS PRESS THEIR CHARGE TILL HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTING ENSUES

BULLETIN—WEDNESDAY MORNING.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—Lieutenant General Sakharoff, telegraphing to the general staff on the conclusion of yesterday's sixteen hours of fighting around Liao Yang, estimates that the Russian casualties throughout the day were three thousand. The battle ended at 9 o'clock last night, when many positions occupied by the Japanese were re-taken and again held by the Russians.

BULLETIN—WEDNESDAY MORNING.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—1 p. m.—Success crowned the Russian arms the first day of the great battle of Liao Yang and the utmost confidence prevails here that the issue of the fight will be a complete victory for General Kuropatkin. From dawn until dark yesterday the battle raged.

(Tuesday, Aug. 30.)

The heaviest battle of the war is raging today around Liao Yang. Following the rear guard action which Kuropatkin has fought in his retirement from Anping and Anshanshan, he has either elected or been forced to give battle and is meeting the attack of the combined forces of Kuroki, Nodzu and Oku. Dispatches from the battlefield show that at dawn today the Japanese opened a terrific artillery fire, directed mainly against the Russian center and right. After four hours of galling shrapnel fire the cannonading slackened and at 9 o'clock the Japanese general advance began. An Associated Press dispatch sent from Liao Yang at 6:49 this evening shows that the battle was increasing in intensity, the Japanese pressing forward until at one point their advance developed into a hand-to-hand fight, the Russians repelling them with the bayonet.

The Associated Press dispatches and the Russian official reports indicate that the Russians occupy a semi-circle of about nine miles in length, protecting Liao Yang, the center and right of this line receiving the brunt of the fighting up to the last advices. So far reports do not indicate the trend of the action, but reports to the Russian war office say that the battle will extend over several days. The combined forces engaged are estimated at between 300,000 and 400,000 of all arms.

Liao Yang, Aug. 30.—6:49 p. m.—The battle is growing in intensity. The Japanese advance was pressed with such vigor that it developed into hand-to-hand fighting, the Twenty-third regiment repelling an attack at the point of the bayonet. One of the Japanese batteries was dismantled. Wounded men have been pouring into Liao Yang since 8 o'clock this morning, mostly hurt by shrapnel shells and some by rifle bullets. The heights of Maotung near the railroad have been showered with projectiles.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—2:32 p. m.—The long expected battle at Liao Yang has begun and the two armies are now fighting what probably will prove to be the decisive battle of the campaign. The Japanese armies are attacking General Kuropatkin's forces upon his chosen ground and his friends here are confident, that having accepted a general engagement, he will defeat the Japanese. In a brief telegram received this morning Kuropatkin says the general advance of the Japanese began yesterday, the Russian outposts falling back upon the main lines. The heaviest fighting was taking place when his dispatch was sent from a point ten miles southeast of Liao Yang, where the Japanese seemed to be concentrating for their main blow. The Japanese selected the mikado's birthday for the decisive battle and it will not be surprising if today is also signalized by a grand assault on Port Arthur. The combined armies of Generals Kuroki, Oku and Nodzu probably exceed 200,000 men. Their forces are considerably superior in numbers to those of General Kuropatkin.

The war office is waiting in breathless anxiety for news of the result of the battle upon which so much depends.

HEAR HEAVY FIRING.

Liao Yang, Aug. 30.—Rifle firing is distinctly audible here, it having commenced at the southward at 5 o'clock this morning. Now at 6 a. m. a steady cannonade is in progress and it is believed a great battle has commenced.

A body of Japanese troops reached a point five miles west of the railway station yesterday evening, but were dispersed.

KEEPING MIKADO'S BIRTHDAY.

Liao Yang, Aug. 30.—2 a. m.—Today is the anniversary of the birth of the Japanese emperor and the Russian army expects a general advance upon its positions around Liao Yang. Everybody is keyed up for the long-awaited moment and the soldiers face today's probable events with confidence.

From early morning until noon yesterday in Liao Yang could be heard the dull rumble of distant guns. Then a lull of four hours ensued when suddenly firing reopened to the southeast, heavier and nearer than before and continued with but little intermission until darkness fell. Every man is tonight sleeping at his post and dawn may bring a day memorable in history.

BOMBARDMENT TERRIFIC.

Liao Yang, Aug. 30.—10 a. m.—From 5 o'clock this morning up to 9 o'clock there has been an incessant shower of shrapnel. The heaviest cannonading is coming from the southeast, where the Japanese evidently have numerous guns. Deadly shells are bursting everywhere, their white smoke being distinctly traceable against the dark foliage on the mountain sides. The Japanese are searching the whole country side with their fire, selecting certain squares of territory on which for a few moments they mass a hail of shot and shell from all their guns. They then pass to another square, thus working the whole field with mathematical precision from right to left. In this way the entire Russian front has been systematically searched in the first four hours of the cannonading. Then commenced the general Japanese advance along the whole line. At this hour, 10 a. m., the Japanese artillery fire has somewhat slackened, but their infantry is steadily pushing forward. The Russians have been holding their ground gallantly and their losses are small considering the terrible nature of the Japanese fire.

COMMITTEE HAS FIXED ONE FIGHT

Indiana Democratic Body is Settling Feuds Brought from Convention.

SAYS WISCONSIN IS SAFE

Postmaster General Payne is Sure Roosevelt will Carry Badger State.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—The democratic state committee at the special meeting last night decided that James E. Fortune is the candidate for state senator in the district composed of Clark, Scott and Jennings counties. Fortune's nomination was contested by George Voighr. Fortune represented the district in the legislature the last two sessions.

The committee was unable to settle the contest from the district composed of Putnam and Montgomery counties. The men contending for this nomination are Frank Ader, of Greencastle, and W. H. Johnston, of Crawfordsville. After hearing the testimony the committee was divided and an adjournment was taken for ten days, when the case will be taken up again unless in the meantime Ader and Johnston reach an agreement.

SCHEDULE FOR CANNON.

New York, Aug. 30.—The republican congressional committee has arranged a schedule for Senator Cannon. He will speak at South Bend, Ind., September 15; Columbus, Ohio, September 16; Dayton, September 17. Beginning on September 21 he will spend four or five days in West Virginia and beginning September 26, will spend two days in Maryland.

WILL ORGANIZE EDITORS.

New York, Aug. 30.—Joseph Daniels, a member of the democratic national committee for North Carolina, who has been designated as chairman of the committee on editorial conference, arrived in New York today and began the work of the organization for the coming conference of the democratic editors who will assemble here September 6.

PRESIDENT HAS BUSY DAY.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 30.—Having completed his letter of acceptance except for the final reading, President Roosevelt and Secretary Loeb today spent several hours in attending to some important departmental business which had been forwarded here from Washington. The president is greatly interested in the army maneuvers which are to be executed on the battlefield of Bull Run, believing they will be of practical value in elevating the morale and discipline of the troops engaged. An invitation was extended to him to be present at the maneuvers and one of the Texan regiments insisted that he should be its guest at the encampment, but the president was obliged to decline all invitations. He will receive from time to time reports of the engagements so that he may be made aware of the practical efficiency of the forces participating.

PAYNE SEES ROSY PICTURE.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Postmaster General Payne returned to Chicago today after a visit at his home in Milwaukee. Speaking of the political situation in Wisconsin, he said it would be difficult to make prediction as to the effect of the complications over the state ticket until the supreme court acts upon the petition for a writ to compel the recognition of the anti-Lafollette ticket. "The writ is made returnable next Monday," he said, "and an early decision is expected. The opinion in the state is quite general that the prayer of the stalwarts will be granted but whatsoever may be the result of the suit, it can have no adverse effect upon the electoral ticket. In any event the state will give Mr. Roosevelt an overwhelming majority."

The Noble county horticultural society will make a fine display of fruit at the state fair.

GIRL ROAD AGENT NEAR BEING SHOT

For a Lark She Tries to Hold Up Stage in Idaho at Risk of Her Life.

Pocatello, Idaho, Aug. 29.—Miss Alice Pulsipher, a daughter of a well known New Yorker, undertook to hold up the Monida-Yellowstone stage for a lark a few days ago, and narrowly escaped being shot. The family has been occupying a cottage just outside Yellowstone Park during the summer. In response to a dare, Miss Pulsipher decided to hold up the stage.

Dressing herself in men's clothes, with boots, sombrero and leather leggins, and mounting a horse, she added two big revolvers to her equipment. Then she stationed herself at a turn of the road where she was concealed by timber and thick undergrowth. Just before dusk the stage, filled with eastern tourists, came along. Miss Pulsipher rode her horse into the middle of the road and, pointing both pistols at the driver, commanded him to halt.

Bill Ripley, the driver, is a grizzled old frontiersman, famous as an Indian fighter in the early days. Without a word he drew his own revolver, leveled it at the figure in front, and was in the act of firing when Miss Pulsipher, with a wild shriek, dropped both her weapons and begged him not to fire.

Ripley lowered his gun just in time to prevent a bullet piercing the woman's body.

Ripley, in solemn tones, warned the young woman of the danger she ran by playing jokes with guns in the western mountains.

RUS AND JAP HAVE MET

Liao Yang to the Lokal Anzeiger, timed 9:25 a. m., today, says:

What appears to be the deciding battle began at 4 a. m. Since then the artillery has been thundering and rifle fire has been rolling incessantly. The encircling heights resemble fire-emitting mountains. The Japanese began the attack east of Liao Yang along the Tai Tse river, but were repulsed. The firing is now specially heavy south and southwest of Liao Yang. One can no longer distinguish individual detonations. The Wyborg regiment, of which Emperor William II is honorary chief, is deploying upon the battlefield. The total strength of the combatants engaged is estimated at over half a million men. The battle probably will continue for several days.

Colonel Gaedke correspondent of the Tageblatt at Liao Yang, telegraphed his paper at noon today as follows:

"The deciding battle has been in progress since early dawn. The Russians are on the heights surrounding Liao Yang, making a semi-circle of about eight and a half miles from the railroad to the upper Tai Tse river, and averaging about four and one-third miles from the city. A magnificent artillery duel is in progress. Since 11 o'clock it has reached extraordinary intensity. At 9:30 a. m. a Russian battery posted on the heights north of Tai Tse river began shelling the Japanese, who were attempting to advance on the Anping road."

MAIN JAPANESE ATTACK.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—A dispatch from General Sakharoff dated from Liao Yang at 10 a. m., today, says:

"The main Japanese attack is being directed against the Russian center and right where the Russian losses have been the heaviest.

"The Japanese posted numerous artillery within range of all the Russian positions during the night. A hot fire was opened at 5 a. m. and by 9 o'clock the Japanese were close to the Russian positions."

BATTLE WILL BE PROLONGED.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—The latest reports received by the war office indicate that the battle of Liao Yang will probably extend for several days. The Japanese are directing their energies to bombarding segments of the circle of defensive positions occupied by the Russians. The latter have already suffered heavily from the hail of shells.

The Russian cavalry won a notable success west of Liao Yang, repulsing the Japanese advance from that direction. This was the first time the Russian cavalry had an opportunity to charge the Japanese on open ground since the war began.

JAPS ADVANCING NORTH.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—General Sakharoff reports that a large Japanese force is advancing northward along the Taitsu river valley west of the railroad.

The Russian cavalry which prevented the turning of the Russian right flank Sunday had to operate among the fields of Chinese corn which was above the heads of the riders. The report from General Sakharoff also announces an engagement between a Russian force and 150 Chinese bandits, of whom about fifty were killed.

STORY OF THE RETREAT.

Liao Yang, Aug. 29.—(Delayed.)—Throughout Aug 27 and 28 the Russian eastern divisions continued to fall back in good order on Liao Yang but the movement was slow on account of bad roads and the difficulties of transportation and the Japanese pressed closely several times with light batteries, dragging guns to the hills and shelling the troops, whose retirement was covered by Russian guns. Consequently there were frequent artillery duels.

General Marsen was wounded and there were other losses of about 250 men. The Japanese scouts are extremely active today. Rain is falling, but the rumble of artillery can still be heard on the eastward.

The Russian retreat from Anshanshan was ordered for strategic reasons, practically no resistance being offered. A light screen of batteries facing the Japanese guns beautifully disposed on a chain of hills masked the withdrawal of the main force. When night fell the batteries also took up the retreat, their rear guard lighting bivouac fires to conceal the movement. But the Japanese soon discovered this ruse and pressed forward, coming up with the Russian rear guard Sunday morning. For an hour the light batteries were hotly engaged. To the lot of the Omsk Tobolsk and Krasnovarsk regiments fell the duty of covering the retreat of General Zaroubaieff, Fourth Siberian army corps. The task was difficult, as the enemy continued to advance and it was imperative that the enemy should be held back to permit the removal of the baggage and artillery trains. The roads were washed out and heavy with mud produced by the deluge of rain the preceding Friday. Many guns were mired and the horses exhausted. Cossacks and infantry were harnessed to the guns and managed to haul them along. It was slow work, but was successfully accomplished. From dawn until dark the eastern troops, although fatigued by four days' fighting, sustained a rear guard action.

EXAGGERATIONS OF WAR.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—12:23 p. m.—General Dragomiroff, the former governor general of Kieff and authority on military matters, devotes a long article published in a military magazine today to the exaggerations of the war, ridiculing the marvelous tales of Japanese exploits, in scaling precipitous heights, and saying that the imagination of some of the Russian correspondents is running riot.

He refers to one correspondent who described the cossacks' lances and swords as being blunted on shirts of mail worn by Japanese officers and quotes another who described the Japanese as transporting dummies, which were used to distract the Russian fire. The general mentions a third correspondent who said the Japanese gunners carry a map of the whole of Manchuria with every range marked on it. He says the Japanese of the past were accustomed to cold steel and produced some famous swordsmen and swordmakers.

SEVERAL DAYS' FIGHTING.

Che Foo, Aug. 30.—9 p. m.—A junk which left Liao Tung promontory the afternoon of Aug. 29 brings confirmation of the report of fighting at Pali Chuang on the 26th, making it clear there had been a fight of several days' duration in that section during which both sides lost heavily. The Japanese succeeded in holding their position and mounting guns which, together with those at Chao Chanko, exchanged a fierce fire with Russian artillery from two forts in the vicinity of Tapingtse.

Chinese who came in by this junk affirm that the Russians are firing daily from Itseshan and Antazshan forts. This may mean that there is another destroyed fort at Itseshan or that the Russians have recaptured that position. One of the Chinese declares that he has been engaged for twenty days in carrying Russian dead from the forts near Tapingtse.

WILL NOT QUIT LIAO YANG.

Paris, Aug. 30.—The Temps' correspondent at Liao Yang telegraphing from there today at 11:21 a. m. says:

"There is no sign that the Russians propose evacuation of Liao Yang. Through the night from a roof top I could see the bursting of shells from the Japanese guns. The Japanese are approaching the crests east and south of the town. The attacking force is estimated at 200,000 men with 700 guns."

PESSIMISTIC VIEW.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—The Militair Wochenblatt today estimates the nominal strength of the Russian Manchurian army at 205,000 men, without any deductions for killed, wounded or sick. The military critic of the Kreuz Zeitung commenting on this says the effective strength must be much less and judging from former experiences, perhaps 50 per cent. The writer assumes that the Japanese losses have been compensated for by fresh arrivals from Japan and forecasts the Russian prospects in the present battle in a pessimistic tone, showing that defeat must lead to a great disaster, retreat being practically impossible on the single highway leading to Mukden.

JAPS LOST 2,000 MEN.

Tokio, Aug. 30.—5 p. m.—The Japanese lost two thousand men killed or wounded in the battle of Anping. The Russian losses have not been estimated but are said to have been heavy. The Japanese captured eight guns at Anping and eight at Anshanshan.

BREAK IN RANKS OF THE STRIKERS

Two Hundred Quit Work and Go Back to work in Chicago Packing Houses.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—About 200 union workmen and women returned to the stock yards this morning and were given work. The packers do not regard this, however, as a break in the ranks of the strikers, and the labor leaders say that the condition is normal, the number having returned and others deserted each day for some time.

The national executive board of the butcher workmen at a meeting this morning voted not to call off the strike, instead the struggle is to be continued until the strikers are accorded an honorable adjustment according to a statement issued by President Donnelly as a result of the meeting.

"After careful investigation of all points," he said, "we find our numbers are standing as firmly for the maintenance of the principle involved as they were at the inception of the strike. Hence we believe in voting to continue the strike until we are accorded an honorable adjustment; we are voicing the sentiments of our constituents."

At a meeting of the allied trades council today it was announced that the strike will continue. The leaders said that the reports that the strike would be called off were without foundation.

FOUND WITH BULLET THROUGH HIS HEAD

John Shifaly, Prominent Noble County Man, Meets a Tragic End.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 31.—Lying beside a walnut tree but a few rods from his home six miles north of this city, the lifeless body of John Shifaly, a prominent farmer 66 years of age, was found Tuesday morning. A bullet from a 48-calibre revolver which lay at his feet had passed entirely through his head, and Dr. W. D. Carver, coroner of Noble county, who held an inquest, returns a finding that the shooting was accidental.

Before Mrs. Shifaly had arisen Tuesday morning she heard the report of a revolver near the home, and hurrying out of doors she found the body of her husband as indicated. One leg was through the rungs of a ladder which stood against the tree, and the surroundings indicated that Mr. Shifaly's death had been instantaneous. It is known that Mr. Shifaly had been attempting to destroy some squirrels which had taken lodging in the tree near his home, and there is a theory to the effect that he was endeavoring to climb into the tree to shoot them when his revolver was accidentally discharged.

Mr. Shifaly had resided in Noble county since 1852, was prosperous and highly esteemed, and it is said he could have had no reason for committing suicide.

STOLEN COPE THE CAUSE OF SUICIDE

Sacred Relic Bought by J. P. Morgan Has Tragic Phase --Accused Man Dead

Ascoli, Italy, Aug. 30.—Tragedy has been added to the series of events which have followed J. Pierpont Morgan's purchase, a few months ago, of an ancient cope, said to have been stolen from the cathedral in this city.

The photographer, Rocchiggiana, who was arrested on Aug. 17 for complicity in the theft, committed suicide yesterday in his cell by hanging himself to one of the bars.

The accused man had been morbid from the time of his detention, and at first tried to starve himself to death, refusing all nourishment.

A dispatch from Ascoli Aug. 27 said that a sensation had been caused there owing to the fact that Mgr. Santarelli, the rector; Father Lucidi, a professor; Father Dangelo, administrator of the seminary, and Father Ortolani, the parish priest of Ancarano, had been summoned to appear before the court investigating the theft of the cope.

During a search of the house of Rocchiggiani the authorities found the sum of $3,000, which, it was claimed, increased the seriousness of the case against him, as he was looked upon as being poor.

THEFT CAUSED SENSATION.

A cope is an ecclesiastical vestment, and the Ascoli garment is almost priceless. It is a beautifully embroidered piece of work, done in France in the thirteenth century, and it was presented to the cathedral of Ascoli by Pope Nicholas IV., who sat on the throne of Peter from 1288 to 1292.

It mysteriously disappeared while repairs were being made to the cathedral in 1902, and the town was stirred to its depths. Later it was sold to J. P. Morgan, the American banker, who, it is asserted, insisted on having a photograph of the seller, with his autograph.

The remote cathedral town, situated in eastern Italy, regarded the vestment with veneration, and when it disappeared felt as if it had lost its ewe lamb, and the Italian police left no stone unturned to discover the guilty parties. There is a widespread belief that the photographer acted only as agent of principals higher up. The recent summons of the rector and others at Arcoli strengthens this belief.

PHOTOGRAPHER A NEWCOMER.

Rocchiggiani was a Florentine, who went to Ascoli two years ago and set up a small shop, which was recently fitted in the most modern style, while he himself went on a series of tours abroad in order, as he says, to study the latest developments of the photographic art. He returned to Ascoli about Aug. 10, from Cairo, according to his story, but from London, as the police are inclined to think.

A few months ago a handsome cope came into the London market—it is thought from Paris—and was bought by Mr. Morgan. Mr. Morgan offered to lend it to the South Kensington museum for exhibition, and for the last few months it has been placed in the tapestry room there.

Some of the museum authorities declare that it is not an example of French art, but that it was made in England more than 600 years ago.

The basis of the cope is of brocade, formed by gold threads woven on a kind of canvas, and into it are worked fifteen whole and four half circular medallions representing religious subjects such as the Virgin and Child, the Head of Our Lord, the Crucifixion of St. Peter, and figures of the early popes. Except that the pearls formerly strewn profusely over the tissue were sold to pay a war tax raised in the time of Napoleon I., the cope remains in perfect condition.

TO RECOVER VESTMENT.

Suddenly it was found that this was the long lost cope of Ascoli. The discovery, when it was made, came as a general surprise.

At once it was felt among Catholics that the cope must be recovered, and rumor had it that Cardinal Vannutelli had undertaken, during his recent visit to London, to approach Mr. Morgan with a view to its being given up. But Mr. Morgan was not in England at the time, and the cardinal had no such mission. When the cardinal left England he had not moved in the matter personally, though he is credited with having written to the bishop of Ascoli, Bartolomeo Ortolani, advising him to write direct to Mr. Morgan. And there the matter stands at present.

PERIL TO MAJORITY IN NATIONAL HOUSE

Chairman Babcock Says Republicans Must Fight Hard to Retain Control.

Washington, Aug. 30.—"There is no use trying to paint black white; we have a great big fight on our hands, and only the hardest kind of work will save us the house," said Representative Babcock of Wisconsin, chairman of the republican congressional campaign committee, yesterday. "We are not fighting old general apathy, and it does not require much figuring to show just where we are. Not since 1888 have the republicans found conditions so unfavorable for the congressional tickets as this year.

DOUBT AS TO HOUSE.

"Usually we can count on saving the house by the strength of the national ticket. There is no doubt in my mind that President Roosevelt will be elected, but his great popularity and strength may not be sufficient to keep the republicans in charge of the house organization.

In each of four different congressional districts we have two republican candidates, and this division of strength will almost certainly result in the election of the democratic candidates. Out in Nebrasko our opposition has fused on the congressional ticket, and we are liable to lose some districts. In Indiana we have several real contests, and I am not at all satisfied with the situation there. Rodengerw down in the East St. Louis district and Smith down in Egypt and Lorimer up in Chicago may be defeated. We are more likely to lose than gain strength in Illinois.

PROSPECT OF LOSSES.

"New Jersey will give Roosevelt 30,000 nevertheless we will probably lose three republican congressmen there. This is not all our trouble. The democrats will gain a district in Pennsylvania, and I could go more into detail to prove that we have the greatest fight on in years to save the house and keep 'Uncle Joe' in the speaker's chair.

"I am not despondent of success, but if we win it will be by a small majority unless the unforseen happens, and there is a great landslide or a marked change in sentiment before election day."

IF A MAN DIE SHALL HE LIVE AGAIN?

I SO WHEN AND WHERE SHALL HE LIVE?

PASTOR PAUL JOHNSON, A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE WATCH TOWER BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY WILL PREACH AT THE ELEKTRON HALL SUNDAY, SEPT. 4, 1904, AT 3 P. M.

SUBJECT—"RESURRECTION."

No other doctrine is made so prominent in the New Testament as that of the Resurrection, and yet so far has modern popular theology drifted away from that of our Lord and His apostles that the resurrection of the dead is scarcely ever preached upon today. So important is this doctrine, in the estimation of the inspired apostle, that he emphatically declares that if it be not true, then there is no hope for any man beyond the present life. The preaching of the gospel is in vain and those who have fallen asleep in Christ perished. Such indeed is our sad plight if there be no resurrection, and more: If there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen. All are cordially welcome. Seats free. No collection.

POUR LIQUOR IN STREET.

Cuba, Kas., Aug. 29.—Four joints, or illicit saloons, were wrecked by women here and much liquor destroyed. Mrs. E. O. Fites and Mrs. William McDonald, wives of prominent business men, armed with hatchets, first entered, without warning, the place run by Ben Hull.

Without ceremony they began to smash everything in sight, and soon they had demolished bar and fixtures and broken every bottle and opened every keg to be found.

Later they were joined by twenty-five other women, and the entire party raided the other four joints in Cuba. The stocks and fixtures at each place were destroyed in prompt order. Finally the women spilled into the street a great quantity of keg beer that had been confiscated and stoned at the city jail.

THREE HUNDRED GUESTS PRESENT

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Smith Celebrate Golden wedding Anniversary

Three hundred guests, comprising children, grandchildren, neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Smith, at Saturn, in Whitley county, a short distance west of the Allen county line, united in a very pleasant celebration of the golden anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Smith's marriage on Thursday last. An unusually happy feature of the occasion was the presence of Daniel Berry, the aged father of Mrs. Smith, who is nearing his eighty-eighth year.

The celebration was held in a beautiful spot in the grove at the old home farm, which has been the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Smith for half a century, and a splendid basket dinner was spread upon a table one hundred feet in length. Following the dinner a number of photographs were taken, and later a program of recitation, song and informal talks was given. These included prayer by Rev. A. M. Gillespie; song, "When Grandma Was a Girl," by Merle Putnam; phonograph selections, vocal solo by J. A. Mullet, and reminiscent addresses by William Kelsey and George Jeffries, besides a number of recitations by the grandchildren. Arthur M. Gillespie, in a few well-chosen words, bestowed upon the honored couple many beautiful presents from the children and friends, and the occasion was one long to be remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are widely and favorably known, both in Allen and Whitley counties, having spent their fifty years of married life in one community. They are parents of seven children, six of whom are living. The children are Wesley Smith, Sanford Smith, Mrs. Mort Gillespie, Mrs. Harry Putnam and Mrs. Ames Kelsey, all of Jefferson township, Whitley county, and Clarence Smith, who is a professor in Taylor university at Upland. A son-in-law, Mort Gillespie, was for two terms surveyor of Whitley county. There are twenty-six grandchildren, there having been but one death in the list of grandchildren—a little daughter of Wesley Smith.

IRISH-AMERICAN LEAGUE MEETING

Convention in New York Attended by Noted Leaders From Ireland.

New York, Aug. 30.—The second national convention of the United Irish League of America convened today in this city, the national president, Colonel John F. Finnerty, of Chicago, presiding. More than 900 delegates were present from all ports of the United States, also John E. Redmond, the leader of the Irish party in the house of commons; Captain Donelan, of East Cork; Patrick O'Brien, of Kilkenny City, and Conor O'Kelly, of North Mayo.

Acting Mayor Fornes welcomed the league to the city. The morning session was devoted to routine business.

Jeremiah O'Connor, of Elmira, was unanimously chosen temporary chairman of the convention after brief addresses had been made by John F. Finnerty, Representative W. Bourke Cockran, John Redmond, Acting Mayor Fornes and Patrick Ford. Temporary Chairman O'Connor read his address giving in detail the struggles of the Irish and Mr. Redmond's efforts in their behalf.

IRISH REFORM SOCIETY.

London, Aug. 30.—The Irish Reform association has adopted a platform for the association which, while firmly maintaining that the parliamentary union of Great Britain and Ireland is essential to the political stability of the empire and the prosperity of the two islands, expresses the belief that such a union is compatible with the devotion to Ireland of a larger measure of local self-government. It considers that such a devolution, while avoiding matters of immaterial concern and subjects of common interest to the United Kingdom, will be beneficial to Ireland and would relieve the imperial parliament of a mass of business occupying its time to the detriment of more important concerns.

The association also considers that the present financial administration of Ireland is wasteful, that it ought to be revised and that the time has arrived to extend to Ireland the system of private bill legislation which has been successful in Scotland. It advocates urgently higher education and expresses the desire to do all in its power to further the policy of land purchase in the spirit of and on the general lines laid down by the land conference report.

HEAVY SENTENCE FOR STONING CAR

James McDowell Quarreled With Conductor and Made Trouble--Police Court

Joseph McDowell, charged with assault and battery by J. E. Adams, a street car conductor, was fined $10 and costs and sent to jail ten days by Judge Dreibelbiss in police court Monday morning.

Saturday night the two opened up a "kidding match" on a driving park car and when they reached the end of the line at St. Joe road they fought. The trouble was settled for the time being, but was renewed on the next trip, when McDowell threw stones at the conductor and struck him several times. A call was sent to the city for police aid and Deputy Sheriffs Daseler and Huguenard went out and got McDowell. He entered a plea of guilty.

OTHER CASES.

Two young women were fined $5 and costs for drunkenness under the names of Louisa and Carrie Johnson. They gave the name of Schelner when they were arrested. Both are known to the police and they were fighting Sunday about the one male escort who was with them when Patrolman Brennan sent them in.

Nicholas Weiss had a plain ordinary jag that he could not carry home and as he had never been arrested before he was allowed to go.

George Lynn failed to appear and his bond was forfeited. He was arrested for being drunk.

Mr. Lehman, of 2714 Hoagland avenue, reports that somebody stole a hand press and some type from his barn.

WOMEN WILL HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY

Mayor Will Grant Federation Permission to Keep Alleys Clean.

Mayor Bergdoff has announced that although the application of the committee from the civic department of the Woman's Club League for permission to clean up a couple of alleys had not been brought to his notice officially, he stands ready to make the experiment and will turn over to the ladies as many streets and alleys as they want.

He stated in connection with the application that the problem of street cleaning has been a nightmare through his administration and through former administrations and that if the committee can solve it and show how it can be done better with the money and facilities at hand the lesson will be a valuable one.

Further he said that the paved alleys are comparatively easy to take care of and that when he is called upon he will endeavor to have the committee take upon itself the cleaning of one of the unpaved alleys in the residence districts where the sanitary conditions are more difficult to contend with.

noon of the 24th two Japanese columns were observed, one behind Sugar Head hill and the other near the railroad bridge, but they retired when the Russian artillery made an attack on them. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon of the 24th the Japanese began a heavy bombardment of the Russian position with their 120-millimeter guns and at the same time a Japanese colonel of infantry and cavalry appeared at Palichuang. At 6 o'clock that afternoon the Japanese furiously attacked the entire northeastern front of the Russian defenses, but they were compelled to retire with considerable loss.

CONFUSION OF EVENTS.

The foregoing is an account of a battle mentioned in these dispatches yesterday, as having occurred Aug. 26. Whether the fighting which presumably did occur on the 26th was a separate attack or whether the Chinese who reported the occurrence were inaccurate in their dates cannot be determined. The night of Aug. 24 was quiet. On the morning of the 25th the Japanese artillery opened up along the entire eastern front. During the night of the 25th Captain Stompneffsky with a small force made a sortie and attempted to disperse a Japanese battery located on "Corner Hill," but without success. This sortie was made from "High Hill." The Novi Krai adds that the Japanese were building trenches in front of the hills from "Corner Hill" to "High Hill," but it does not mention the retreat of the Russians from the latter place. The Japanese have about thirty guns, some of them mounted in stone Chinese houses and others in the foothills along the beach. In the vicinity of Louisa bay, northwest of Port Arthur, the Japanese have 200 guns concealed in a cornfield.

GEN. STOESSEL'S REPORT.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—4:53 p. m.—General Stoessel's report says that the Japanese attacks were repulsed till Aug. 25, with heavy loss to the attackers. He gives no details of the positions held or of the Russian losses in men, but says the officers suffered severely. Some of the larger Russian guns were placed out of action by the Japanese batteries and were replaced by field pieces. The general describes the stench from the decaying bodies between the lines as being horrible. He reports that the morale of the garrison is excellent. Finally the general recommends Generals Fock, Kondratenko, Smirnoff and others for bravery and devotion.

HELD ITS ANNUAL PICNIC.

The annual picnic and basket dinner of the Corner Rod and Gun club was held Sunday in the club's country club house on the banks of the St. Joe river near Robison park, and a big crowd was in attendance. Musical numbers were given by the Citizens' band, the Saxonia and Concordia singing societies and an interesting program of athletic sports was carried out. Congressman James M. Robinson delivered the principal address of the day, and several others were called upon and responded in a happy vein. The picnic was a great success, and will be an annual feature.

Fortunately Mr. Tibbett was only slightly injured, but it was a narrow escape from death or serious injury.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 31, 1904.

That world's fair balloon race is to be repeated at intervals. The results will be quite as definite if the race is simply taken for granted.

David B. Hill at least will have the satisfaction of knowing when he retires that he will no longer be responsible for all that is done in the party's name.

The importance of events now transpiring around Liao Yang gives Port Arthur a much needed rest from the continuous performance in the falling line. It also seems to promise a few lines of real war news.

The president has put the finishing touches to his letter of acceptance save for reading it over. If he could now have assurance that the public would read it over he could send it forth on its mission and feel happy. But who that does not have to ever does read such documents?

From various sources there has been considerable expression of approval of the proposal of Judge Whallon, of Indianapolis, to frame a bill for the next legislature to establish the whipping post in Indiana. We do not know that there is much prospect of a whipping post law, but agitation of the general subject of wife-beaters and shiftless and improvident heads of families may result in something salutary.

The recent Mr. Munroe got $5,000 for variously standing up and falling down to the yet Mr. Jeffries, who got a somewhat larger sum for his share in the proceedings. It was not a large sum for Mr. Munroe who could have picked up that much money almost any time among third-raters on the reputation of a man who was supposititiously able to spoil Mr. Jeffries as a champion. It remains true that the blow-hard phase of the fighting game is the most profitable.

Newspapers over the state, without special regard to political antecedents, are in the main of the general opinion that the liquor interests of Indiana are making a serious mistake in their attempt at organized antagonism to the Nicholson law. Most of these newspapers take occasion to warn the liquor element that any attempt in the next legislature to tamper with the law as it now is will be more apt than otherwise to result in measures likely to be more stringent than those of which they now complain. So far as it has been possible to test public sentiment there is no disposition among the great masses of the people of the state to have the law changed.

Congressman Grosvenor, the statistics statesman of the republican party, has just returned from Missouri, where he was evidently "shown" to an extent calculated to raise suspicion of practical joking by the gentle Missourians. In an interview given out in Chicago the Ohio congressman thus joins the ranks of the rainbow chasers: "If I were a manager of the democratic party I would look out for Missouri. Conditions have changed there in the last few years, and many persons have emigrated from that state to Nebraska and Oklahoma, while others have come into the state from the north. The political complexion has changed, and while those who have moved away are the strong democrats those who have moved in are to a large extent capitalists, and, therefore, are republicans. I believe Folk stands little chance of winning the election, on account of the controversies in which he is involved, and while I will not say that Missouri will go republican, I believe that it can be put in the doubtful column."

The grave illness of Senator Hoar and the sorrowful prospect that the venerable statesman of Massachusetts will not much longer be spared to his country moves the Wall Street Journal to pronounce a fitting eulogy upon his character and to lament that his like is now all too rare in American statesmanship. The Wall Street Journal says: "Those who would estimate Senator Hoar at his real worth can best do so by calling over the roll of the United States senate and noting how his colleagues measure up beside him. Here a millionaire broker in legislation, here a dealer in franchises, here a huckster in tariff schedules, here a blatherskite swash-buckler, here a party 'boss,' past master in the art of dirty politics, here a row of silent, wire-pulling, stock-jobbing nonentities—can not each man name them for himself? And in this 'millionaires' club,' as it is sometimes called, Senator Hoar, with a handful of men like him—one of whom, George Graham Vest, has but lately gone—has kept alive and handed down to those who will come after them something of the dignity and the glory of the United States senate as the fathers of the country conceived it. Senator Hoar will die an unsuccessful man, as things go nowadays. His name is not found in brokers' books in Wall street; it will not be graven on the walls of the millionaires' hall of fame. He was not even a 'captain of industry.' But he will be remembered while there lives a love of truth and while a man is yet measured by something besides his dollars."

SALOONS IN INDIANA.

According to figures just made public by State Statistician Johnson there was an increase of 131 in the number of saloons in Indiana during the year 1903. This seems to bear out the contention made by the prohibitionists that the saloons are increasing despite the operations of that part of the Nicholson law providing for remonstrance. The figures given by the statistician are interesting.

In 1902 there were 4,704 saloons and last year 4,835. Retail dealers paid $190,468 to the state and wholesale dealers $17,703. Retail dealers paid into city and town treasuries for license fees $777,005.

Brown and Pike counties were the only ones not having saloons. The counties containing the largest number of saloons, outside of cities and incorporated towns, were: Allen, 45; Clay, 30; Grant, 43, Lake, 93; Vanderburg, 30; Vigo, 46. Marion, the most populous in the state, had but twelve saloons outside the city or towns. The counties having the largest number of saloons were: Allen, 273; Lake, 266; Marion, 645; St. Joseph, 207; Vanderburg, 320; Vigo, 233.

The average fee for saloons in the different cities was $208. Fees ranged from $50 to $250. Marion county showed the greatest increase in the number of saloons—ninety-three. Forty counties showed an increase of 300 saloons and forty showed a decrease of 259.

There were in Indiana 4,835 saloons; in cities 3,411, towns 732, and in the country 692. Cities averaged one saloon to every 253 people and incorporated towns one saloon to 2,478 persons; outside of cities and towns, one saloon to every 2,129 persons; in Indianapolis, one saloon to every 520 persons. East Chicago showed one saloon to every fifty-five persons and Anderson one to every 270 persons. There were ten times as many saloons in Indianapolis last year as schoolhouses, and there was still greater disproportion in many other Indiana cities.

WILL GIVE ARTILLERY DRILL.

Battery B will give an exhibition field drill at the fair grounds on Wednesday, September 7th, and the spectacle promises to be one of the most pleasing of the amusement program. The drill will take place in the afternoon on the infield and two of the battery's guns, with the caissons will be used. The fair management has secured twenty-six horses, which have been turned over to the battery for training, in order that the spectacle will not be marred by the animals taking fright through lack of being accustomed to the guns.

WILL ATTEND REUNION.

Veteran soldiers and their friends to the number of from seventy-five to one hundred, are expected to leave Fort Wayne for Maysville tomorrow to attend the annual reunion of company D, of the Eighty-eighth regiment. A portion of the party will make the trip over the Wabash to Grabill and from thence by hack, while others will drive 'cross country the entire distance. The people of Maysville are preparing to entertain the veterans royally, and dinner is to be served by the churches there at 25 cents.

DANGEROUS NEGRO LYNCHED BY A MOB

Masked Men in Laramie, Wyo., Hang Man Who Tried to Kill White Woman.

Laramie, Wyo., Aug. 30.—Joe Martin, colored, was lynched by a mob of 300 men in front of Judge Carpenter's house at 8 o'clock last night. Martin was a trusty in the county jail. He attack a white girl, Della Crouse, in the jail kitchen and slashed her face and arms with a knife. Six men were injured by Martin when entering the jail to drag out the prisoner.

After assaulting Miss Crouse with a razor Martin was placed in a cell in the county jail. Last night a mob of several hundred men formed outside the jail. The first intimation that Sheriff Cook had of the contemplated lynching was when two masked men appeared in the kitchen of the jail house and with guns levelled at him told him that there were 200 men waiting outside for the negro and that he had better not attempt to make any trouble for them. In the meantime another masked man had entered and while the first held the sheriff the third man took the keys of the jail from the sheriff's pocket and then the three started for the negro's cell. On the way they met Dr. Miller, who was summoned to attend the wounds of Martin, self-inflicted, with the same razor he had assaulted the girl, and Turnkey Jones. They were both compelled to stand against the cage of the cells with their faces turned away from the mob. Th negro was then taken from his cell and hurriedly marched through the court, house into the street. Arriving at the lamppost a short distance from the jail the negro was quickly strung up to the post. During the entire proceedings he did not speak nor attempt to resist the mob. The lynching occurred at about 8 o'clock and within half an hour the streets were deserted.

Acting Coroner Grant is in charge of the body of the negro and turned it over to an undertaker.

Miss Crouse would undoubtedly have been killed by Martin had not the wife of Sheriff Cook held his arms until his rage had cooled and he could be taken from the kitchen. On the way out he slashed Frank Frazer, a bystander, with a butcher knife, which he had grabbed from the kitchen table. The wound is not serious. Miss Crouse, who comes from Chillicothe, Mo., is not seriously hurt.

LINDEMUTH FAMILY REUNION.

The second reunion in twenty years of the eight brothers, members of the Lindemuth family, was held at the home of Deputy Auditor George Lindemuth, in Lakeside, on Thursday, and the guests, including the families of the brothers, numbered forty-one. Mrs. Lindemuth, mother of the family, was present. The brothers in attendance were: J. B. Lindemuth, of Paulding county, O.; A. C. and Edward Lindemuth, of Maumee township; C. A. Lindemuth, of Woodburn; L. V. Lindemuth, of Jenny Lind, Ark.; V. E. Lindemuth, of Scipio township; George and Frank Lindemuth, of Fort Wayne; a sister, Mrs. De Etta Overmeyer, of Antwerp, O.

Brethren of the Church of God at Helmer, Steuben county, have become involved in a bitter factional fight, as a result of which the pastor, Rev. Tatman, and a portion of the congregation, seceded and have been holding a camp meeting near the church. In their sermons the preachers have each been saying some hard things about the other division, and Rev. Tatman was arrested upon a charge of provoke, the specific allegation being that he pointed out one of the women in the congregation and said, "There is a she-devil." The jury disagreed and the case will have to be retried. Several persons have been fined for disturbing the meetings in the tent.

The home of Frank Young, in Blue Creek township, Adams county, was wrecked by lightning Thursday afternoon and Lindsey Young, 12 years of age was instantly killed. Other occupants of the house were badly stunned.

WORK BEGUN TODAY.

The work of erecting the new school building and dormitory of the Orphans' Home of the Reformed church was begun today by a force of men under Contractor Hilgemann. The building will be erected just west of the present main building and it is expected that it will be completed early in the spring.

THE SUNDAY BIBLE SCHOOL

Lesson in the International Series for September 4, 1904—"Elijah Encouraged."

(Prepared by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher.)

(Copyright, 1904, by J. M. Edson.)

LESSON TEXT.

(I Kings 19:9-18; Memory Verses, 15-18.)

9. And he came thither unto a cave, and lodged there; and, behold, the word of the Lord came to him, and he said unto him, What doest thou here, Elijah?

10. And he said, I have been very jealous for the Lord God of hosts: for the children of Israel have forsaken Thy covenant, thrown down Thine altars, and slain Thy prophets with the sword; and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away.

11. And he said, Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the Lord. And, behold, the Lord passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the wind: and after the wind an earthquake; but the Lord was not in the earthquake:

12. And after the earthquake a fire; but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire a still small voice.

13. And it was so, when Elijah heard it, that he wrapped his face in his mantle, and went out, and stood in the entering in of the cave. And, behold, there came a voice unto him, and said, What doest thou here, Elijah?

14. And he said, I have been very jealous for the Lord God of hosts: because the children of Israel have forsaken Thy covenant, thrown down Thine altars, and slain Thy prophets with the sword; and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away.

15. And the Lord said unto him, Go, return on thy way to the wilderness of Damascus: and when thou comest, anoint Hazael to be king over Syria:

16. And Jehu the son of Nimshi shalt thou anoint to be king over Israel: and Elisha the son of Shaphat of Abel-meholah shalt thou anoint to be prophet in thy room.

17. And it shall come to pass, that him that escapeth the sword of Hazael shall Jehu slay: and him that escapeth from the sword of Jehu shall Elisha slay.

18. Yet I have left Me seven thousand in Israel, all the knees which have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth which hath not kissed him.

19. So he departed thence, and found Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen before him, and he with the twelfth: and Elijah passed by him, and cast his mantle upon him.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Fear thou not, for I am with thee."—Isa. 41:10.

TIME.—About forty days after last lesson.

PLACE.—Mount Sinai, or, as it is often called, Mount Horeb.

Comparing Scripture with Scripture.

The Place.—"Came thither unto a cave," in the Mount of God, the place where God appeared to Moses in the flaming bush (Ex. 3:1-4) and the place where Israel had received the law (Ex. 19:1-2.) A place hallowed by sacred memories, and yet not the place for Elijah, as God's twice repeated question and His command: "Go, return on thy way," prove. Elijah spent over 40 precious days in getting alone with God, when he might have found Him in Israel. May not the prophet have erred as the Samaritan woman did who sought to engage Jesus in argument about Mount Gerazim as the only place to find God and to worship? John 4:20. How many weary days the discouraged Christian often spends in getting alone with God. Elijah made up his mind he would go to Sinai to meet God, and the Christian often foolishly fixes place and time for meeting God and spends weary days in finding Him.—Acts 17:27, Ps. 145:18.

It Was the Place of Heart Searching.—(1) God Became the Examiner. Jer. 17:10. The prayer of the Psalmist should be our prayer. Ps. 139:23-24. But we must submit. Jas. 4:7. Then God will reveal true conditions to us. Phil. 3:15. "What doest thou here, Elijah?" is the question God often has to ask us.

(2) God Became the Teacher. The Christian often makes a long journey of it to God's school, even as did Elijah. But it is a blessed place to come. John 14:26; 16:13; 1 Cor. 2:12. God sought to turn Elijah's thoughts away from self. It took the rock-rending winds; the mountain-moving earthquake, and the fierce fire to turn Elijah's thoughts to God. Oh, how hard it is to bring the soul to listen to God. How God has to almost strip us naked, and afflict us sore, before we will turn from self to Him.

It Was the Place of Encouragement.—It was humiliating to Elijah to realize that his boast of standing alone for God was 7,000 below the true number, but surely he was rejoiced and encouraged to know how many faithful ones there were. Do you ever feel you stand alone for God? Get away in His school, and let Him give you the correct census. Alone! Never, for Jesus is ever present, Matt. 28:20; He is ever working with us, Mark 16:20; by His Holy Spirit, John 16:7-11.

It Was the Place of Fresh Commission.—When Elijah fled from Jezebel he lost his commission. He needed it renewed. The runaway servant of God generally loses his commission, and it is only as we get alone with God that we may receive reappointment in the Lord's work. God's first word to Elijah was: "Go, return on thy way." Elijah must be (1) submissive to God's will. (2) Obedient to His command; God made Elijah retrace his steps, and many a Christian has to do this very thing before he can do God's work. It takes submission and consecration and obedience to do this. And when Elijah was ready to go back; when his spirit of self importance had been subdued; when he was wholly given to God's will; when he was eager to obey, then God revealed His plans for him.

THE GOLDEN TEXT.

"Fear thou not, for I am with thee." Immanuel—"God with us." Matt. 1:23. Marvelous truth. The angels said to the frightened shepherds, "Fear not" for Jesus is come. Jesus said to His trembling troubled disciples, "Fear not" for it is I your risen Lord. And His message to the human heart is still "Fear not." Fear not, for He comes to save. He comes to help. He comes to bless. May He who speaks the message "Fear thou not, for I am with thee," hear faith's response from our hearts, "I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me."

Money Cheerfully Refunded on Request

The Purchasing Power of a Dollar.....

Is doubly emphasized, when at all times and seasons, it will always buy a full dollar's worth and often double that. There are Three Fundamental Rules to apply to economical buying, viz: 1st. Seasonableness. 2nd. Quality. 3rd. Quantity.

When these three requisites are combined your dollar is doing its full duty.

As an example, we place on sale a Four Button Men's Sack Suit made up of Fine Hair line Reading Cassimere that is absolutely worth 8.50 and would be good value at $6.50 that figure. They are lined with a good strong Italian lining, and the cut and workmanship on them is of the best. We have a full line of sizes in these suits. They are really an exceptional bargain at Six Dollars and Fifty Cents.

THE MARKETS

Chicago, Aug. 30.—The reactionary tendency was manifested in the wheat pit today, many traders selling quite freely as a result of only partial response of foreign grain markets to the strength here yesterday. At the opening commission houses were active buyers, causing a firm tone. Initial quotations on December were ⅛c lower to ⅝c higher, at $1.09¼ to $1.10. Offerings soon increased in volume and with a lessened demand sentiment became rather weak. On the slump December sold off to $1.08½. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 421 cars, against 373 last week and 481 a year ago.

Liquidation on a liberal scale continued throughout the entire session, the weakness becoming more pronounced as the day advanced. The low point on December was reached at $1.07¾. The close was practically at the bottom, December being down 1½, at $1.07⅞.

In sympathy with wheat and under the influence of liberal receipts corn showed a considerable weakness. The opening was firm on higher cables, December being up ⅛c to ⅜c, at 52¼c to 52½c. On the advance long corn came out freely, causing a reaction, December declining to 51½c. Local receipts were 917 cars, with 87 of contract grade.

The market closed weak, with prices at the low point, December being off ½@⅝c, at 51¼@51⅝c.

Oats were affected by the easier tone of wheat and corn, the market ruling easier at a slight decline. December opened unchanged to ⅛c higher, at 33¼c to 33⅜c, but declined to 33c. Local receipts were 524 cars.

Trading in provisions was quiet. Shorts were moderate purchasers of lard and ribs and as a result the market held about steady. October pork was down 2½c, at $11.45. Lard and ribs were each up 2½c, at $7.10 and $7.50.

An affidavit was filed today in Justice Tancey's court charging Pearl Reddin with maiming William Smith by biting a piece out of one of his ears and a constable went put with a warrant this afternoon to put the biter under arrest.

Both the principals in the affair live near Sheldon and they met and renewed an old quarrel near that town on Monday afternoon. A fight followed and Smith charges that in the course of the hostilities Reddin took a bite out of one of his ears.

A goodly portion of the member was missing when Smith showed up at the office of Emrick & Emrick this morning to institute proceedings against his adversary.

BROTHERS IN A FIGHT.

Samuel Walker was fined $5 and costs in Justice Tancey's court this morning for striking Marvin Walker, his brother and he immediately filed an affidavit against the latter, charging assault and the case will be tried before the magistrate in Scipio township, where both reside.

CONTINUED INDEFINITELY.

E. K. Bush was tried after the regular session of the municipal court this morning on the charge of public intoxication and after the evidence had been heard Attorney Harry C. Hanna informed Special Judge Ballou that a ruling in the case would probably affect a civil action filed several days ago by Bush against Charles Goodman and the matter was continued indefinitely. Bush complains that Goodman struck him with some kind of an instrument and wants $1,000 damages.

THURSDAY.

The determined fight that is being made by Judge Heaton and Deputy Prosecutor Underwood against the granting of divorces unless every legal requirement has been complied with and ample evidence has been produced in court, resulted this morning in the refusal of a decree to John A. Herzog until he can show that his wife, Samantha J. Herzog, is of sound mind.

The husband stated on the witness stand that he had been married twenty-three years and that the first ten or twelve years he and his wife lived happily together, but that about the time she reached the age between forty and forty-four years, she became quarrelsome and insanely jealous. He said she accused him of having illicit relations with other women and cited the fact that one of the women in question was ninety years old and very feeble, adding that his wife had locked him in a room in the house for the purpose of preventing his attentions to the old lady.

In addition he stated that his wife would revile the neighbors, calling them the vilest names she could think of, would hit him with stove wood, pokers, broomsticks, spit in his face and do other unreasonable things with absolutely no cause. He said in answer to a question by Mr. Underwood he thought she was crazy and the neighbors thought the same thing. Judge Heaton held that in his opinion the woman was not accountable for her actions and that it would inflict a great wrong to grant the husband a decree. He virtually refused a divorce, but at the solicitation of T. N. Wilson, Herzog's attorney, agreed to leave the matter open for a week to afford an opportunity to introduce evidence as to her sanity.

GIVEN A DECREE.

Catherine M. Rear was given a decree of divorce in the superior court this morning from Jesse M. Rear. He was charged with cruelty and it was shown that he had repeatedly knocked his wife down, had taught their children to disobey her and to pay no attention to her instructions and had called her vile names. She was granted the custody of the two children.

SHOOK HANDS WITH RIVAL.

In the divorce suit of Frank Patterson against Anna Patterson, heard in the superior court this afternoon the husband testified on the stand that in May of this year he had met his wife and Elmer Cook, the corespondent in the case, coming out of a strip of woods late in the evening, that he addressed his rival in his wife's affections pleasantly, shook hands with him, talked a while to both and left them again shaking hands with the man who had destroyed his home.

She was charged with adultery but Judge Heaton held the matter under advisement until tomorrow morning. They have no children and were married about four years ago separating last October. Patterson formerly lived with his wife on Wallace street and also resided in Montpelier, Ind. He says they have never quarreled and she simply says she has lost her love for him.

WILL BE TRIED SATURDAY.

Pearl Redding, charged with biting a piece out of William Smith's ear was arraigned in Justice Tancey's court this morning and his case continued until Saturday afternoon. His appearance indicated that Smith was not the only sufferer in the fight that took place between them Monday near Sheldon.

FRIDAY.

In a race between Andrew Purley Collier and Dicie Blanche Collier yesterday to decide which would get a divorce complaint on file first in the superior court, the latter won and there was nothing left for the husband to do but submit with as much grace as possible to the conditions of a restraining order that prevents him from visiting his home at 2417 Oliver street, drawing his money from the Hamilton National bank, speaking to his wife or disposing of his personal property. This morning he got a restraining order to keep her from disposing of their property.

The Colliers were married in December 1900 and the husband is a fireman on the Pennsylvania road. Wednesday the police were called to their home to quiet a disturbance, but no arrests were made as the officers saw nothing to warrant it. Yesterday the wife filed an affidavit charging him with assault and battery and he was fined $5 and costs by Justice Tancey.

Prior to the trial the wife was at the office of Dawson & Underwood having a divorce complaint filed, while Collier was at the office of Leonard & Leonard for the same purpose. She alleges that he began an abusive course of treatment in December last that culminated in knocking her down Wednesday night. He says she was running around at night and he simply forced her to go home. An application was made this morning for a modification of the restraining order so he can go home and get his clothes. This will be acted upon tomorrow morning.

SATURDAY.

Clement Ritnaur filed surety of the peace proceedings in Justice Skelton's court this morning against George Graves and when the case comes up it may involve a matter of jurisdiction that puzzled Deputy Prosecutor Underwood for a time this morning.

Both of the parties live in Whitley county and several days ago they engaged in a war of words. In the course of the vocal bombardment Graves is said to have taken a stone and gone to the middle of a road in front of a house in which the parties were quarreling where he made a stand and offered to smash Ritnaur in the head if he would only come out.

The latter declined the role of smashee and hiked out the back way to where his buggy was standing and departed for the tall and uncut. The anxious-to-be-smasher followed in his buggy and the chase led into Whitley county, but no serious results came out of the difficulty. The Mr. Ritnaur wanted Mr. Graves put under bond to keep the peace and he applied to the Whitley county authorities who sent him to Allen county.

The question involved is whether the Allen county courts can assume that Graves will get after his adversary in Allen county or whether he will confine any operations he may contemplate to his own county or in other words will Mr. Ritnaur entertain the fear that is necessary to a conviction to such times as he is in Allen county and whether or not the overt act that inspired the fear took place on this or the other side of the county line. The deputy prosecutor labored with the matter all morning and then decided to let the courts take a crack at it.

BARBER WANTS DAMAGES.

Edward Miller, in a complaint filed this morning by H. I. Smith and R. B. Dreibelbiss, asks $500 damages from Jacob A. Sperieson, as executor of the estate of Theresa Boch, Michael Shonnessy, Theresa Manweiler, Mary Manwiler and Martin ZurMuehler, on the allegation that they sued him not long ago and attached his barber chair and fixtures and removed them from his premises, injuring his credit and preventing him from holding his customers.

The articles were seized upon an affidavit stating that he contemplated leaving the state, a charge that he denies and the parties other than Shonnessy are sureties on a cost bond.

PUT CARRIERS ON DUPLICATE.

County Assessor William Eggemann has been notified that the cash systems of the Lamson Consolidated Store Service company in Allen county are to be assessed at $5,000. These systems are in the larger stores here and are rented to the proprietors. Mr. Eggemann assessed them and the Lamson concern took an appeal to the county board and later to the state board of equalization. The latter held that the property is properly listed and several counties in the state will be greatly enriched by Mr. Eggemann's action. He listed the company for two years and will get the taxes on $10,000.

GENERAL COURT NEWS.

Constable Oscar Welty, held on the charge of extortion, gave bond yesterday afternoon and was released.

Anton Hauck, who started a saloon on Washington boulevard much to the annoyance of people in the neighborhood, has brought suit against George W. Dodson, Edward Schele, Hubert Berghoff, Gary Baybrook and the Berghoff Brewing company for $500 damages. He says the parties named took all his stock and fixtures and put him out of business.

MONDAY.

Harry C., the trotter, is the bone of contention in a lawsuit filed for William T. McGuire by Gilbert, Berghoff & Wood in the superior court this afternoon in which an accountnig is asked of Charles McDougall.

The complaint sets forth that the horse was purchased by the parties to the suit May 25, 1897, and that time it was entered in three stake races and the first installments of the entrance fees had been paid. McGuire stated that the horse was not started in the races in question, but was placed in others out of its class.

Further he says that from Sept. 1, 1898, to the present Mr. McDougal has the Harry C. as an ordinary driving horse, that the animal is worth $900 and that the services are worth reasonably $1 per day six years. The horse has a mark of 2:14¼.

AFRAID OF HER HUSBAND.

Insanity proceedings were instituted this morning before Justice Tancey and a commission composed of Drs. Lomas, Gard and Carl Schilling against Catherin Brueck. The woman ran away from her home in Fletcher avenue and after an examination the physicians decided that her mind was clear, but that she was nervous on account of fear of her husband, who had beaton her.

MUST NOT SELL CROPS.

In a complaint filed this morning by W. G. Colerick, Joseph J. Peters alleges that Benjamin F. Bowers is indebted to him on a farm lease and that he is disposing of the crops grown on the land, much to the detriment of the owner, and Judge Heaton issued a restraining order to prevent the sale of the produce until Peters has had an opportunity to get his money.

The complaint states that the land was rented for $275 a year, of which $100 was to be paid last December, $100 Aug. 5 and the remainder in October. It is stated there has been a default on the August payment and that there will be another on the October installment if Bowers is permitted to sell the crops.

Something to Eat

Hunter's Stew—Take one pint of beans, the same of sweet corn (cut from the cob), three slices of bacon, six sliced potatoes. Season with teaspoonful salt, saltspoon sugar, a sprinkling of pepper, if you wish. Let the beans (Lima preferred) soak in water until the skins wrinkle, then slip the skins off (they are tough and indigestible). The beans will cook in half the time they otherwise would. When they are partly done add the corn; just before serving, the seasoning. A few gratings of nutmeg is an improvement; gives a foreign flavor.

Note—The above is original. The hunters are supposed to visit a neighboring corn field before they have "bagged," as they term it, any game.

Mushroom Soup—Cut up half a pint of mushrooms in small pieces. Cook in salted water until tender; watch them; too long cooking toughens them; let the water nearly boil away, but do not pour it off, as it retains the flavor. Add one pint new milk, one tablespoon butter and one of Worcestershire sauce. Have ready, stewed, the pulp and seeds taken from the tomatoes used for breakfast. Strain this into the soup to color and help flavor it. Delicious.

Stuffed Baked Fish—Four-pound fish. Wash, wipe dry, sprinkle with salt on the inside. Four rolled shredded wheat biscuit; mix the crumbs with one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon herb dressing, one tablespoon butter, one egg and just hot water enough to make a soft paste. Add the beaten egg last and mix well. Fill the fish, sew up, put in buttered pan, sprinkle on one-half teaspoon salt, pour in pan one small cup of weak vinegar, and baste with butter and water. Bake from forty-five to sixty minutes. Serve with sauce in pan slightly thickened. Garnish with watercress or parsley. Have table bouquet of nasturtiums.

Blackberries and raisins are a fine combination. Make a syrup of one pound of sugar, two quarts of blackberries (some large fine variety) and one pint of seeded stewed raisins. Boil ten minutes, skim out the berries and raisins and cook the syrup until thick. Pour over the fruit and seal. Nice for tarts.

Note—Peaches and oranges are nice preserved together for winter use.

Stuffed Egg Plant with Nut Sauce—Steam or boil the plant for fifteen minutes, remove from the stove and cut in two. When cool enough to handle, scoop out the pulp (without breaking the skin), which mash and season well with salt and pepper and a heaping tablespoonful of butter. Add a scant pint of grated bread crumbs, a teaspoonful of onion juice and a well-beaten egg. Fill the shells with this mixture and bake until browned on top. Serve with nut sauce, which may be made by adding a cup of chopped nuts to any good cream sauce.

Cucumber Sticks—Pare some chilled cucumbers and cut them their full length into sticks about as thick as a pencil. Serve on a dish of chipped ice. The cucumbers sticks are to be eaten with salt, as celery is.

Broiled Sweet Corn—Take tender, juicy ears, steam fifteen minutes, then lay on a well-greased broiler and toast over a good bed of coals, turning them as they need it until nicely browned.

Potato Fillets—Pare and slice potatoes, cut them in small fillets, quarter of an inch square and as long as potato will admit; keep in cold water until wanted; dry well, drop in boiling lard; when nearly done take out with skimmer; drain; boil up lard again, drop potatoes back; fry till done. This causes fillets to swell up and puff.

Chicken a l'Italienne—Make common batter; mix into it one cupful chopped tomatoes, one onion chopped, some minced parsley, salt and pepper. Cut up young, tender chickens, dry them well; dip each piece in batter and fry brown in plenty of butter in a thick-bottomed frying pan.

Baked Blueberry Pudding—One quart ripe, fresh berries, mace or nutmeg one-half teaspoonful; three eggs well beaten, separately; sugar, two cups; cold butter, one tablespoon; sweet milk, one cup; flour, one pint; baking powder, two teaspoons. Roll berries well in flour, add them last. Bake half hour and serve with sauce. Delicious.

Rich Wine Sauce—One cupful of butter, two of powdered sugar, half cupful of wine. Cream butter, add sugar gradually; when very light add heated wine, stirring all the time; add one teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Place bowl in basin of hot water and stir for two minutes. Sauce must be smooth and foamy.

Macaroni Croquettes—Cut fine one cupful cold macaroni; add this to a thick sauce made of one rounding tablespoon each of butter and flour and a cup of milk, a heaping tablespoon of grated cheese, the beaten yolks of two eggs and salt and pepper to season. Cool, shape, egg and bread-crumb and fry in deep fat.

Crabapple Jelly—Quarter the apples, cut off the stem and blossom ends, and allow sufficient water to come to the level of the apples. Cook till soft, strain through a colander and jelly bag. Allow equal measures of juice and granulated sugar with the juice of one lemon to a quart of apple juice. Or, one cupful of plum juice may be added to three of the apple. Proceed as for making other jelly.

Apricot Sherbet in Jelly Cups—Mix one pint of apricot pulps, the juice of two oranges and one lemon, the grated rind of the lemon and one pint of syrup (made by cooking for ten minutes two cups of sugar and one cup of water). Freeze in the usual way.

For the jelly cups make a lemon jelly by softening one ounce of gelatin in one-third cup cold water, add a pint of boiling water, stir until dissolved. Add one cup sugar, and when cool the grated rind of a lemon and the juice of four. Stir in enough spinach green to give a pretty green tint. Mold in little border or patent charlotte russe molds. When firm turn out and fill the hollow centers with the sherbet, which may be topped with a spoonful of whipped cream, or sprinkled with a teaspoon of candied mint leaves.

POISONED BY TOADSTOOLS.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mains, of 228 Grand street, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elliot, narrowly escaped death by poisoning from having eaten toadstools, yesterday. Mrs. Mains purchased the toadstools from a farmer on market, it is stated, and they were eaten at the evening meal. Shortly afterwards all four persons were taken ill. Dr. W. M. Enslen was summoned and found the patients in a critical condition, particularly Mr. Mains, whose recovery was considered doubtful for a time, but all are past the danger point and will recover. A son and daughter-in-law of Mr. Mains ate sparingly of the toadstools, and were not made ill.

RUSSIANS STILL HOLD POSITIONS

First Battle of General Japanese Advance on Liao Yang--Russians Inflict Heavy Losses.

FIGHTING REPORTED AS YET IN PROGRESS

From Tokio Comes News That Great Engagement Will Be Fought--Russia to Get New Army.

Tokio, Aug. 27.—8 p. m.—The belief is growing here that a great battle will be fought at Liao Yang.

Paris, Aug. 27.—A dispatch to the Temps from Liao Yang timed 5:30 p. m. today says the engagement continued throughout today east and south of the town. The Japanese directed a strong cannonade against the Russian positions, the firing lasting from daylight until 1 p. m. Hospital trains are being sent toward the front.

Berlin, Aug. 27.—A dispatch to the Tageblatt from St. Petersburg says the Russian government is determined to assemble a second great army in Manchuria consisting of three or four corps under the command of General Baron Kaulbars or General Soukhomlinoff. Its headquarters will be at Mukden. The object of the step is to meet the situation that will arise should Port Arthur fall, thus releasing the besieging army for operations northwards.

London, Aug. 27.—The Associated Press learns in connection with the revival of the rumors of mediation that Emperor Nicholas only recently announced in the most positive terms that he would not permit peace negotiations even should Port Arthur fall and General Kuropatkin be driven back to Harbin.

Paris, Aug. 27.—The rumored fall of Port Arthur is not confirmed in any quarter here. On the contrary it is said in government quarters that the information received shows that the Japanese staff is convinced from the recent efforts that the taking of the fortress by storm will probably be impossible and that the staff advises the adoption of a new plan—its slow reduction by siege.

FIRST BATTLE OF ADVANCE.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 27.—The first battle of what may be regarded as a general advance of the Japanese on Liao Yang was fought on August 26 with the result that the Russians at the close of the fighting still held the positions and had inflicted great loss on the Japanese, completely dismantling several batteries which attempted to bombard the main position at Liandiansian. The Russian losses were 1,400 killed and wounded.

A long official telegram has been received at the war office but it does not give a hint of what is transpiring today. It is more than probable, however, that the Japanese have resumed their attempt to reach Liao Yang. The silence on this point of the dispatches filed at Liao Yang this morning rather confirms this view. The hottest fighting occurred in the valley of the Lan, a small tributary of the Tai Tse around Tsegow, a place between An Ping and Liandiansian. General Kuroki's first aim apparently was to separate the two principal Russian positions. The Russians have lost 1,500 up to date. General Kuroki's army advanced in three strong columns, one northward along the valley of the Sindahia, a tributary of the Tai Tse, as far as Liao Din Tan, whence a portion of this force marched westward to Miao pass, threatening Ansharshan, the other portion pushing up the stream to Tunsinpu, four miles southwest of Liandiansian, where it was stopped by General Kuropatkin's cossacks. The second column marched along the high road and occupied Erdahe, whence the Japanese batteries shelled Liandiansian, a couple of miles northwest until the fire of the Russian guns silenced them.

Several Japanese batteries were completely dismantled and were abandoned by their gunners. The fighting at Tsegow was of the most desperate yet known. The Japanese had the advantage of the mountainous country, advancing along a ridge extending from Tantaiputzy to Siaolindzy. The latter place is situated on the high road ten miles southeast of Liao Yang. Possession of this point would render Lian Dian Sian and An Ping untenable. It is not improbable that General Kuroki will therefore repeat his attack in this direction.

The Japanese advance was characterized by the greatest regularity and arouses the belief that either General Kuroki has received considerable reinforcement or General Kuropatkin has sent the greatest portion of his army north, leaving only a couple of corps at Liao Yang.

The absence of news of a Japanese movement along the Tai Tse river in order to flank Liao Yang confirms the latter view, as it would expose the attackers to being cut off by General Kuropatkin's main army from the north.

BANKS REPORT ON MONEY AND CROPS

Washington, Aug. 27.—The following statement today was issued by the comptroller of the currency:

"For the purpose of ascertaining the general condition of the national banks, of their ability to meet the demands upon them incident to the annual movement of the crops, the comptroller of the currency under date of Aug. 4, 1904, sent to the national bank examiners, with the exception of those whose districts are comprised within the New England states and the city of New York, a circular letter of inquiry containing the following questions:

"1. Will the demand for your section be greater or less this year than last and will it come earlier or later?

"2. Are the bankers in your section better prepared to meet the demand on them from their own resources than they have been in the past year or two?

"3. Will the money required by the banks in your district come mainly from their depositories in the reserve and central reserve cities or will they be large borrowers?

"4. Will there be any increase or decrease in the amount your banks will have to borrow?

REPLIES ARE MADE.

"Replies have been received from nearly all the examiners and the result of this inquiry may be summarized as follows:

"The demands on the banks will be about the same as last year and at about the same time with the exception of those in the following states: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Ohio, Minnesota and Wisconsin, where it will be greater and from two to three weeks earlier, and in Indiana and Missouri, where it will be less and a little earlier.

"The banks are generally as well, but in most cases better prepared than they have been in the past year or two to meet the demands made upon them. The banks in the following states are better prepared:

"Arizona, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, New Mexico, New York, New Jersey, Nebraska, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, Tennessee, Utah, Virginia, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Wyoming and Washington.

"The banks in the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indian territory, Iowa, Louisiana, Missouri and Oklahoma are not as well prepared."

HANLY OPENS HIS STATE CAMPAIGN

Republican Candidate for Governor Addresses Meeting at Greencastle.

ROASTS THE DEMOCRATS

Expresses Concern for Way in Which Party Was Betrayed Into Hill's Hands.

Greencastle, Ind., Aug. 27.—J. Frank Hanly, republican candidate for governor, opened the campaign in Indiana today, addressing the Putnam county convention, which elected the following officers:

Representative, E. M. Denny; treasurer, Omar Dunlavey; sheriff Stephen N. Forbes; coroner, Walter McGaughey; surveyor, Frank Hargrave.

Mr. Hanly was escorted to the opera house at 2 o'clock, where a large audience greeted him with prolonged applause. Mr. Hanly spoke generally and at great length of national issues. He arraigned Congressman Champ Clark, Governor Vardaman, of Mississippi, and Congressman John Sharp Williams, who he charged with attempting to make personalities the issue of the campaign.

ASSAILS THE DEMOCRATS.

Of the democratic party he said: "Once it was permitted to make a record, from '33 to '37, but when it finished there was in it so much of disaster, of commercial shipwreck, of industrial paralysis, of want, of failure and of despair and of 'perfidy and dishonor,' that it refused to stand upon the record made or to submit to the people for their approval. Instead of its record it submitted a new program and in two successive campaigns exhausted itself in a frantic effort to run away from the record made. And now, weary with itself, its failures and its disappointments, it does not file even a program, but comes into court with a confession of error, consents that Judge may go 'irrevocably' against it and in the presence of the jury, hugs itself with noisy delight that at last it is 'safe and sane.'

"In this campaign it has no hope of success and especially none in Indiana, except through the corrupting power of a vast campaign fund. Those in control of it proceed as though the franchise of the people were a thing to be purchased in the open market.

SAYS PARTY IS BETRAYED.

"To obtain such a fund they disfranchised the rank and file of the party in Indiana and in other states; betrayed the party organization into the hands of David B. Hill, 'surrendered every principle which in the last eight years they have laid down as vital;' nominated Henry G. Davis for vice president; elected Thomas Taggart chairman of the national committee; bargained for in advance and obtained the appointment of William Sheehan, Colonel Guffey, John R. McLean and August Belmont as members of the executive committee and put them in control of the campaign. The nomination of Mr. Davis can be explained only upon the theory that an old man and his money is soon parted. It is painfully evident that they did not have in mind the constitutional provision by which the duties of the president, in case of disability or death, are devolved upon the vice president."

INDIANA CORN FEAST.

Mechecannochqua tribe of the Redmen, Minnewa council, of the Degree of Pocahontas held an Indian corn feast at the home of Mrs. Carpenter, on North Walton avenue, Friday. The scene was characteristic of the people from whom the society drew their names. A fire was built on the common back of the Carpenter residence and over it was suspended a large kettle for cooking corn and with sharpened sticks it was taken out and served with coffee and doughnuts to the forty or fifty hungry guests.

LOCKJAW DEVELOPED LONG AFTER INJURY

Little Son of Frederick Korte of Walnut Street Critically Ill.

The nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Korte, of 810 Walnut street, is seriously ill from lockjaw which developed some days ago, two weeks after the injury which is responsible for the trouble. The little one has suffered intensely, and though Dr. R. B. McKeeman, who is attending him, says he is doing as well as could be expected, the physician is unable to forecast the outcome of the case.

Nearly three weeks ago the lad fell from a log wagon upon which he was riding and the heavy vehicle passed over his right foot, scraping almost the entire fleshy covering off the top of the foot. The injury was apparently healing nicely when the tetanus developed two weeks later, and the little fellow's jaws have been set rigidly since that time.

HARLAN IS NAMED ON FIRST BALLOT

Indianapolis Real Estate Man Nominated for Congress by Democrats.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 27.—Levi P. Harlan, of this city, was nominated for congress by the Seventh district democratic convention held in Indianapolis today. While there had been a spirited contest at the primaries, Harlan won on the first ballot, and the resolutions adopted endorsed the state and national platforms of the democrats.

Harlan's nomination was made a practical certainty by the result of the primaries held last evening, that gentleman securing a comfortable majority of the delegates over both his competitors, Charles E. Barrett and Frank P. Baker. In some wards there were the liveliest sort of contests at the primaries.

District Chairman Fanning warmly supported the successful nominee, but declared that in doing so he was merely giving expression to his personal preference, and that National Chairman Taggart was taking no part in the contest whatever.

TWO MEN DIE IN AWFUL ACCIDENT

Elevator Carrying Four Men and Eight Carboys of Muriatic Acid Falls

ALL HORRIBLY BURNED

Two of the Victims Succumb to Terrible Injuries Received.

New York, Aug. 27.—Two men were killed and two others fatally injured today by the falling of an elevator at the Babbitt Soap factory, on Washington street. On the elevator with the men when it fell were eight carboys of muriatic acid, each weighing 185 pounds. These broke open and all four men were badly burned.

The dead are:
Thomas Prince.
George Bonnet.
The injured:
Louis Heinman.
R. Francisco.

The four men were mixed up in a mass of broken glass and the flood of acid and their screams as the fiery stuff burned their flesh were heartrending.

Bonnet, the elevator operator, and Prince died in a few minutes. Francisco has a compound fracture of the leg, both his eyes are burned out, his body is a mass of burns and his right arm is broken. He will die. Heinman has a fracture of the thigh and is horribly burned. His recovery is doubtful. Jacob Beck, the assistant foreman, and the foreman whose name is not yet known, were both arrested. The acid set fire to the floor of the engine room in the basement and the blaze was extinguished with difficulty.

D. Carriers' News; W. L. Fetters, of Bluffton, the treasurer of the national organization; T. W. Redman, of Evansville; A. L. ORGANIZATION IS THE WATCHWORD

Indiana Democrats Will Trim Up for a Hard Struggle in the Campaign.

FUNDS NOT TO BE LACKING

Congressman C. B. Landis is a Caller at Home of President Roosevelt.

Indianapolis, Aug. 27.—Organization is the word that has gone out among democrats of Indiana as a result of a meeting of the democratic state committee. The meeting was attended by Joseph T. Fanning, chairman of the Seventh district. From the national headquarters Fanning brought encouragement in the form of information that the committee would not be hampered for lack of funds for organization.

The plan is to make the chairmen of each congressional district responsible to the state committee for the county organizations. The district chairmen are to proceed at once to investigate every county organization.

The state committee authorized the state chairman to appoint some one to take charge of the speakers' bureau and some one to look after the return of absent voters.

LANDIS AT OYSTER BAY.

Oyster Bay., L. I., Aug. 27.—President Roosevelt's first visitor today was Representative Charles B. Landis, of Indiana. He has been spending a few days in the east preparatory to the fall campaign in Indiana, and came to Oyster Bay to talk over with the president the general political situation, especially as it relates to his own state. Other callers were Joseph Winter, general secretary; Charles E. Hausell, treasurer, and Charles Hauser, a director of the German Roosevelt league of the United States. The league is said to number more than 6,000 Germans in New York and about twice as many more in other parts of the United States.

MR. TAGGART'S CALLERS.

New York, Aug. 27.—August Belmont and Chairman Taggart were at democratic headquarters very early today, so early in fact that they found only deserted rooms. At 9 o'clock Mr. Sheehan, Delancy Nicoll and John R. McLean came in and these members of the executive committee held a meeting and went over the questions relating to the campaign work to date and discussed the program for the future. Soon after the meeting ended Sheehan departed for Esopus, where it is expected he will go over the situation with Judge Parker.

PARKER WORKS AT LETTER.

Esopus, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Judge Parker spent the entire morning in his library at work upon his letter of acceptance of the presidential nomination and was not accessible to visitors.

William F. Sheehan arrived from New York this afternoon. Later he came to Rosemount and had a talk with Judge Parker.

CONVENTION OF 1905 COMES TO FORT WAYNE

Beta Phi Sigma Boys in Session at Muncie Secure Next State Meeting.

Fort Wayne members of the Beth Phi Sigma fraternity have returned from Muncie where they have been in attendance at the state convention of that organization, and were successful in securing the 1905 meeting for Fort Wayne. Three ballots were necessary before the Fort Wayne contingent secured the victory.

A night of frolic closed the meeting at Muncie Friday, an elaborate banquet being served in the Eckenberg cafe, and covers were laid for sixty-nine members. The toast "Gamma Chapter," was responded to by Charles Comparet, of this city, and in the election of officers Urban Eckels, of Gamma chapter, Fort Wayne, was elected vice president for the ensuing year.

SAW OLD COMRADES.

Judge Samuel M. Hench returned today from Versailles, Ripley county, where he attended a reunion of the survivors of his old regiment, the Eighty-third Indiana volunteers. This is the first time Judge Hench had seen his former comrades since the close of the war, thirty-nine years ago. The regiment was mainly recruited from southern Indiana counties and the meetings of the regiment in reunion have always been at places difficult of access from Fort Wayne.

There have been times when the wild beasts have been more merciful than human beings, and spared the woman cast to them in the arena. It is astonishing how little sympathy women have for women. In the home the mistress sees the maid with the signs of suffering she recognizes so well, but she does not lighten the sick girl's load by a touch of her finger. In the store the forewoman sees the pallor and exhaustion which mark womanly weakness, but allows nothing for them. It is work or quit.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN
WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

MUNROE WAS NOT IN GAME AT ALL

Champion Jeffries Disposed Butte Miner in Two One-Sided Rounds

NEVER LANDED ON JEFF

Munroe Beaten to Standstill First Round--King of All False Alarms.

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—In December, 1902, "Jack" Munroe, the miner-pugilist, put a blot on the fighting escutcheon of James Jeffries in a four-round bout at Butte. Since that time Munroe had been touted as the greatest of the "comers" in ringdom and the man destined to shoulder the big Californian from the champion's throne.

Last night in the second round of the Jeffries-Munroe fight the champion wiped out the blot on his record and at the same time wiped the Butte "phenom" from the eligible list of championship aspirants. Jeffries doubtless could have put Munroe out in the first round, but evidently wanted to punish the big man from Montana a bit before putting him to sleep.

Munroe never showed a bit. Not once did he land his glove on the champion. From the start Jeffries beat him down. In less than four minutes of actual fighting time the champion had exposed Munroe as the most unqualified false alarm that ever got a match with a real fighter.

MUNROE A PRETENSE.

From the sound of the gong for the start of the first round until Referee Graney counted the miner out Munroe was completely at the mercy of Jeffries. He went to his corner at the end of the round almost out. The end came after forty-five seconds of fighting—all on Jeffries' part—in the second round. The only surprise was that it did not come sooner. Munroe was like the veriest amateur of the prize ring. He made such an extremely sorry showing that the great throng in Mechanics' Pavilion roundly hooted him as he protested to Referee Graney against the decision in favor of Jeffries—a decision that was preceded by the count of ten.

BIG MINER SCARED.

The two giants had not been in the ring two minutes when it was foreseen that the aspirations of Munroe would be quickly disposed of. The miner was scared and awkward, and Jeffries in the first round twice had him on the canvas taking the count.

Jeffries directed his bombardment against the stomach of his opponent, and each shot was followed by a blow on the jaw that sent Munroe to his knees. Jeffries went back to his corner after the opening round with a sneer and a laugh on his swarthy face, while Munroe's seconds busied themselves with smelling salts and restoratives. When the two came together for the second round the laugh on the champion's visage changed to a look of determination that boded ill to the miner.

Forty-five seconds after the gong sounded Munroe was lying on the floor, a bloody, bruised mass of humanity, with Jeffries standing over him, ready, if necessary, to put the quietus on his adversary.

TEN COUNT FOR MINER.

Munroe was too dazed to rise to his feet, and the timekeepers counted him out, but the husky man from southern California did not understand that the victory was already his, nor could Munroe realize that his pugilistic star had set. Munroe staggered to his feet, and the two men faced each other, Jeffries landing a terrific blow on the jaw of his already beaten opponent. It was at this time that Graney came forward and ordered Jeffries away, telling him that the fight was ended in his favor.

Munroe tottered to his corner with blood streaming from his face and fell into his chair, dazed and helpless. His seconds immediately began working on him to freshen him, and when he came to a realization that the fight had gone against him he arose and, going over to Referee Graney, began to protest.

The crowd then began to jeer and hiss. From the time the bell rang for the commencement of the battle to the time that the count of ten had been uttered against Munroe, only 4 minutes and 45 seconds had elapsed.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

The brief battle—if "battle" it could be called—by rounds was as follows:

Round 1—Both advanced slowly to the center and indulged in light sparring. Munroe was the first to lead with a left that was short. Jeffries danced around his opponent, drew him into a clinch and missed a right for the body. Jeffries was chewing gum and smiling. Jeffries sent Munroe to the floor with a left hook to the jaw. Munroe was up quickly, but the champion drove a straight right to the head and followed it with a left swing to the stomach. Jeffries followed his advantage, driving Munroe to the ropes with right and left to the body. A left to the jaw sent Munroe to the ropes and down for 8 seconds. He arose, but again was floored with a similar blow. Jeffries started a vicious right for the jaw just as the bell rang. Munroe did not land a blow and looked nearly out as his seconds led him to his corner.

Round 2—They went to a clinch. Munroe received a left swing to the mouth that made him spit blood. He bore in, but Jeffries was unrelenting, smashing him all over the body with left and right and flooring him again. Blood flowed from Munroe's face and ears. Then a terrific left to the face rendered the miner helpless. He sunk slowly to the floor and attempted to rise. Jeffries waited for him, but before the champion could land on his helpless victim Referee Graney grabbed him and declared Jeffries the winner. The round lasted only forty-five seconds.

MUNROE FIRST IN RING.

Munroe was the first to jump into the ring. He was followed immediately by Jeffries. The seconds, as announced by Referee Graney, were "Billy" Delaney, "Jimmy" Britt, "Jack" Jeffries and "Joe" Kennedy for Jeffries and "Kid" McCoy, Harry Foley, "Tim" McGrth, "Twin" Sullivan and Frank McDonald for Munroe.

Announcer Jordan introduced Munroe as the "Butte Miner." Jeffries then was presented as the champion of the world. Both men received a hearty round of applause, Munroe, if anything, receiving the greater amount.

"Kid" McCoy next was introduced as the "Beau Brummel of the prize ring." McCoy expressed himself as willing to box any man in the world, barring Jeffries.

CHAMPION IS CONFIDENT.

Jeffries immediately went to his corner. His face bore a smile of confidence. His condition was superb. He was clad in black trunks, entwined with the national colors. After greeting his friends Jeffries stalked to Munroe's corner and grasped the miner's hands.

As far as appearances went, Munroe contrasted greatly with the champion. His face bore a serious expression, and was almost white. He appeared to be ill at ease as his seconds fastened the gloves on his hands. Munroe wore green tights also surrounded with the national colors. As the miner discarded his overcoat it was agreed that his condition was perfect.

At 9:29 Announcer Jordan beckoned the men to their corners, there to await the gong. At 9:30 time was called.

A $26,000 crowd witnessed the fight, but the throng was not up to the San Francisco standard. The excitement which is usually in the air on the eve of a championship battle was lacking. The spectacle of long lines of eager applicants standing for hours in anticipation of the opening of the box office was not witnessed.

WILL DECLARE ASSESSMENT.

The board of directors of the Allen County Farmers' Mutual Insurance association is arranging to declare an assessment to cover the total losses sustained by fire and lightning during the present year, amounting to a total of about $6,000. The precise rate of assesment has not yet been computed, but it will not exceed twelve cents upon each $100 of insurance in force.

Why Lodge's Oratory is Not in Demand

HENRY CABOT LODGE
BORN IN BOSTON, MASS. MAY 12, 1850. GRADUATED AT HARVARD, 1871. PH. D. 1876. LL. D. HARVARD, 1895. LL. D. YALE, 1895. LL. D. PRINCETON, 1896. LL. D. WASHINGTON AND JEFFERSON, 1900. LL. D. COLUMBIA, 1902. LL. D. WESLEYAN, 1903. LL. D. BROWN, 1903. LL. D. DARTMOUTH, 1904. LL. D. WASHINGTON AND LEE, 1904. SENATOR FROM MASS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, President Roosevelt's chief adviser in congress and one of his most intimate friends, is being kept off the stump by the republican campaign managers. Although the country has been ransacked for speakers to aid in swelling the republican majorities in the state elections in Vermont and Maine, Senator Lodge has not been asked to speak. The omission is the more marked because, as a resident of Massachusetts, Mr. Lodge is familiar with New England habits of thought, and is accustomed to appeal to New England audiences.

Not only has Mr. Lodge not been permitted to speak, but he has been told by the republican national campaign managers that he must abandon his position against reciprocity with Canada. He has been informed that the situation in Massachusetts is more serious than he thinks, and that the state may easily become doubtful if the democrats should nominate Richard Olney for governor, as they have been planning to do.

CZAR COMMEMORATES BIRTH OF HIS SON

Money Set Aside from Imperial Privy Purse to Found 100 Scholarships.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 27.—An imperial decree has been published directing that in commemoration of the czarevitch's birth, a sum of money shall be assigned from the imperial privy purse sufficient to found one hundred scholarships. These are to be divided equally between naval and military educational establishments. The scholarships are to be named after the emperor and empress and awarded to children of deserving soldiers and sailors killed or wounded in the war.

The decree also directs that the administration of the imperial estates shall devote the annual interest accruing from the sum of $1,000,000 for the support, in the name of the whole imperial family, of families of soldiers and sailors—the money to be used preferably for the education of their children.

On Aug. 24 the emperor telegraphed to General Kuropatkin as follows:

"During the christening of the czarvitch the Tsaritza and myself requested the army and navy in our hearts to stand sponsors for his imperial highness. May God preserve during the czarvitch's whole life the moral bonds between him and all ranks of the army and navy, from the commanders to the soldiers and seamen, who are dear to me and to Russia, and who have proved their love for the fatherland and the sovereign by their self-sacrifices and exploits while suffering privations and encountering extreme dangers."

TO TELL AGE OF HORSE.

At public sales one sees so many old horses sold for young ones that he who can tell their age feels no little sympathy for a neighbor who buys a 14-year-old and pays a 6-year-old price for it, says an exchange. Nearly everyone can tell a very old horse from a very young one. Frequently one sees a sleek, fat, high-lifed animal passing, from general appearance, for a 5 or 6 year old that is fully twice as old.

A neighbor has a poor, run-down mare, 4 this spring, and the "general appearance" judge would say "she is 15, anyway." General appearances are no criterion. Neither are the eyes, nor the tusks, as some claim. Some who assume to be authorities on the horse say that "A horse's teeth are no index to its age." But I differ from such authority.

The lower front teeth, if healthy and natural, are practically an accurate guide. A yearling has very short teeth, with deep cuts in center, the two end ones being shorter than the others.

A 2-year-old has short teeth, with comparatively shallow cups.

A 3-year-old has two long teeth in center, with two short or "colt" teeth on either side.

A 4-year-old has four long teeth, with one short one on either side.

A 5-year-old has six long teeth, with deep cups in centers.

A 6-year-old has shallow cups in the two center teeth.

A 7-year-old has the center teeth worn nearly smooth, cups of second pair shallow.

An 8-year-old has the second pair worn nearly smooth.

A 10-year-old is commonly spoken of as a "smooth-mouthed" horse; i. e., no cups. As the animal grows older the teeth become worn in proportion. The corners of the teeth become rounded.

To tell the age with any degree of accuracy beyond 12 requires much experience and the examination of many sets of teeth.—Baltimore Sun.

Famous Singer Who is Seriously Ill

MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK

HOW TO BECOME WELCOME.

There is great art in impressing yourself favorably upon your host or hostess, whether a guest in a city or a country house. If you possess a tender conscience toward your hostess show it by never taking any liberties in her house with her belongings, her servants or her children. To become a welcome guest you must be keenly observant of family habits and little preferences. Come down very promptly to meals, and because you have owlish tendencies don't make the household smother its yawns while it heroically attempts to entertain you. Never displace a chair, book or lamp without carefully replacing it just where you found it.

Don't leave your sewing, crochet work, novel or tennis racket lying about, as I knew one nice, careless girl to do in a house where the hostess was peculiarly tidy. Miss Blank eventually left her bag of golf clubs near a doorway where the host stumbled over them in the dark and hurt his knees severely. Her balls of wool lay in sofa corners half the time or in a tangled mass on the parlor floor, and she appropriated to her own use a big, deep chair in the chimney corner that was the special property, pride and solace of the host's elderly rheumatic sister.

She meant no harm, of course, but her careless disregard of the particularities of others rendered her peculiarly unwelcome to her hostess and all the family in which she visited. They were as glad to see her go as was another hostess who invited a young man friend of her husband to stop over the week-end in her dainty little home. He was a good fellow at heart, but the guest room he occupied for but two days was a wreck when he left it. He had tied the fresh muslin window curtains into hard knots in order to gain more light upon his shaving glass; he had dropped hot cigar ashes on the embroidered bureau cover and burned two big holes therein. Trying to move about the room in the dark, he overturned a vase of flowers and ruined a pretty rug and he coolly scratched his matches on the wall. Finally, he dragged a dainty chintz-covered chair out upon the guestroom balcony and left it there all night in the rain.

SEVERELY BITTEN BY A KISSING BUG

Michael Boosamra Suffers Attack from Poisonous Insect.

Michael Boosamra, residing at 1312 Calhoun street, was bitten upon the lower lip by a poisonous insect which had invaded his sleeping apartments early Friday morning, and has since been suffering intensely from its effects.

His lip is swollen to an enormous size, and Dr. F. B. Ladd, who was called to attend him, believes the attack was made by the insect known as the kissing bug. Saturday measures were taken to nullify the poison and reduce the swollen lips of the suffering patient. It has been several years since the visit of the kissing bug to this city has been noted. The insect in this case was killed by Mr. Boosamra.

The patient is an intelligent young Syrian, prominent as a politician and an interpreter, and active in business.

BRIDGE WAS SET ON FIRE.

An old covered wooden bridge over the Maumee river north of Shirley City was fired twice by incendiaries a few nights ago, and was saved from destruction by the prompt work and watchfulness of farmers living in the vicinity. While returning from Maysville, Clayton Lindemuth, of Maumee township, noticed that the north end was ablaze, and he at once summoned several farmers living in the vicinity. A bucket brigade was formed and the fire was speedily extinguished. A short time after the men left the bridge, they noticed it was on fire in another place, and returning, found a pile of hay and straw burning briskly. The fire was put out, and several of the farmers remained at the bridge the rest of the night. The bridge is to be replaced within a year by a steel structure, and it is thought the old bridge was fired by interested persons who thought to hasten matters in that way.

HAS INCREASED LARGELY.

It is seven years ago today since Postmaster W. D. Page took charge of the Fort Wayne postoffice, and with him was installed the assistant and clerical force practically as it remains today with the exception of the additions made necessary by the increase in business which has resulted from Fort Wayne's growth. Upon the carrier force there were at that time eighteen men, while twenty-nine are now required to deliver mail to Fort Wayne people daily, and this increase is much larger than has ever been made during the administration of any previous postmaster.

VALUABLE GIFT FOR SOME FAIR VISITOR

Handsome Sewing Machine Will Be Donated at Fort Wayne Fair Next Week

Through the liberality of George B. Miller, general agent for the Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine, every lady from this place or any other place who attends the Fort Wayne fair next week will be given an opportunity of being presented with a brand-new No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine without the expenditure of a single penny. Mr. Miller's plan is an unique one and the officers of the fair association would be pleased to find some more merchants who have something in their mind to spring and something in their stock to give away. Mr. Miller will have an extensive exhibit of Wheeler & Wilson machines and art work in the Art Pavilion and in his booth a register will be kept each line of which will be numbered. Every lady visiting the art building is requested to call at the booth and register, putting down her name and address only. On the last day of the fair a committee of newspaper men will draw a number by lot, and the name found opposite the said number will entitle the owner to the machine which will be found on exhibition. Here is an opportunity for some one to get a valuable household necessity absolutely free as there will be no fee of any kind and no charge for registering. President Peters is willing to hear from others of Mr. Miller's turn of mind from now on until the fair opens next week.

Uncle Sam Stamps are the Best Stamps there are Merchants pay much more for the U. S. Stamp advertisement than they pay for any other stamps, so as to give to the U. S. Stamp customer bigger and better premiums. Cheap stamps require more than double the stamps to get the same premium given by the U. S. Stamps.

TWO MEN KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE RACE

Barney Oldfield's Machine in Fatal Dash at World's Fair--Oldfield Hurt.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 29.—Barney Oldfield, racing chauffeur of Cleveland, O., lost control of his automobile in the fifth event of the world's fair speed contest yesterday, and the machine crashed through the outer fence of the course, killing John Scott, a watchman, and injuring Nathan Montgomery, a negro, so that he died a few hours later. Oldfield was injured and the auto demolished.

At the club house, after the accident, Oldfield declared that the race was his last. He said he never would drive in competition again on an inclosed track, declaring the sport too hazardous.

ACCIDENT IN FIFTH RACE.

The accident occurred at the start of the fifth event, a ten-mile race for racing machines. At the start A. C. Webb ,of Toledo; Webb Jay, G. P. Dorris and Barney Oldfield went to the paddock. The start was bad, Oldfield and Webb being the only drivers to get their machines in motion. They sped under the wire and away without heeding the gong. When the three-quarters pole was reached the machines were going at the rate of a mile a minute.

Webb led by twenty yards. He held the middle of the track, and as he mounted a bank at the turn his machine threw a cloud of dust in the air that caused both machines to be lost to the sight of the 25,000 spectators in the grand stand.

DASHES INTO THE FENCE.

Oldfield tried to pass Webb at the three-eighths pole. He was getting the dust and was completely blinded. He turned his machine to the rail and allowed it to run directly into the fence.

About thirty feet of the railing was torn out. Scott and Montgomery, the only two spectators at that spot, were directly in the path of the huge 24-horse power machine and were ground down in a twinkling. Oldfield in the automobile hardly realized what had happened until the machine struck a tree. He was thrown out violently and his head and face were scratched, but he was not seriously injured. The machine was wrecked.

CROWD HEARS OF FATALITY.

Oldfield was taken to the club house. Scott's body was picked up, and Montgomery, the negro, was attended by a physician until the city ambulance took him to the hospital, where he succumbed to his injuries.

When Oldfield failed to appear after Webb emerged from the dust cloud there was considerable excitement in the grand stand, but it was announced that he was not seriously injured. Shortly afterward he was driven to the club house in an automobile, when it became generally known that the accident had resulted fatally.

The race, after a short delay, was run, being won by Webb by a large margin. It was the most important event of the day, the prize being the Louisiana Purchase Exposition trophy, valued at $500.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

Washington, Aug. 30.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions says:

Although cool weather has prevented rapid development in the Ohio valley and lake region, the crop as a whole has experienced decided improvement. Much of that prostrated by winds in the previous week in Indiana and Illinois is straightening up. A general improvement in tobacco is indicated. Cutting is well advanced in the middle Atlantic states and New England and is in progress in the Ohio valley.

The outlook for apples continues promising in New England, New York and the upper lake region, but unfavorable reports continue from the states of the central valleys.

WORLD'S FAIR PROSPERING.

World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, Aug. 30.—Announcement is made semi-officially by members of the world's fair management that the $1,000,000 loan applied for more than a month ago to be used in case of emergency will not be needed. It is stated that the revenue to the world's fair has exceeded expectations and the total daily receipts in round numbers, amount to about $75,000. According to the statement of President Francis the cost of maintaining and operating the exposition including the government loan payment is $65,000 a day, in which event the exposition has a net revenue of $10,000 each day.

FINDS $1,250,000 TREASURE.

Johannesburg, Aug. 30.—Mr. Kemp, a cousin of General Kemp, the Boer commander, has discovered beyond Spelenken, in the northern Transvaal, the treasure removed from Pretoria before the entry of Field Marshal Lord Roberts. The value of the treasure is estimated at $1,250,000, of which the government will receive half.

DAUGHTER INHERITS WEIGHTMAN ESTATE

Mrs. Walker as Sole Heir is Made One of World's Richest Women.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 30.—Mrs. Anne M. Weightman Walker is by the terms of the will of her father, William Weightman, which was probated yesterday, the richest woman in the world in control of her own fortune.

An estimate made by one of the grandchildren of Mr. Weightman places the value of the estate at $60,000,000.

Every cent of this is left absolutely to Mrs. Walker, the only survivor of Mr. Weightman's three children.

She is made the sole executor of the estate and exempted from the necessity of filing either bonds or inventories. She becomes also executive head of the manufacturing drug firm of Powers & Weightman, with ramifications to every state in the union, and in foreign countries.

As Mrs. Walker is a childless widow, the probable ultimate disposition and distribution of this great estate is completely a matter of conjecture.

TWO HUNDRED WORDS IN WILL.

The will, which was written in the fine chirography of the testator, upon a single sheet of thin ruled foolscap paper, contains only 200 words.

Although the remarkable will carries no bequests, to a large number of grandchildren and great grandchildren of the late William Weightman, the issue of his two sons, no contest will be filed.

Of the estate one of the grandchildren said this evening: "I have seen estimates of the size of the estate varying from $30,000,000 to $130,000,000. While my information on the subject is meager, I am of the opinion that the larger sum, if cut in half, might give a fairly accurate approximation of its value.

"Whether its exact value will ever be known is very doubtful. Some few years ago Mr. Weightman tried to compute his wealth, but was forced to abandon the effort.

TOOK REAL ESTATE PAYMENTS.

"Much of the fortune was accumulated through dealings with wholesale drug houses in different parts of the country. Mr. Weightman would make advances to these concerns. Oftentimes he would be compelled to take real estate in payment. At other times he got securities and even the stocks of such firms.

"To try to fix the value of these holdings is almost impossible. I know, though, that the estate owns real estate in at least twenty states of the union, and in how many others I do not know. I should not be surprised if it developed that Mr. Weightman was possessed of property, real and personal, in every state in the union."

HAD OTHER INTERESTS.

"In addition to these holdings he had, of necessity, large interests in the sources of supply of the raw materials used in his business as a manufacturing chemist. These sources of supply are distributed all over this country as well as in many foreign countries and serve to complicate the character of the fortune and the task of estimating its value or of closing up and consolidating the estate."

"What will be Mrs. Walker's policy in relation to the fortune? Will she continue it as at present?" was asked.

"Mrs. Walker will continue the business of Powers & Weightman through next year, at least," was the reply. "What she will do with it after that time I have no means of knowing, but I fancy she will not undertake to continue it indefinitely."

"She is a woman of most excellent business capacity, fully the equal of her father. She has been trained under and by him, and, while she is perfectly capable of managing the manufacturing business as well as the other details of the estate, I am of the opinion that she will close it up and consolidate it, although in doing this she will make no sacrifices to haste."

Of Mrs. Walker, who has suddenly been thrust into prominence as the richest woman in America in charge of her own fortune, comparatively little is known. She occupies the mansion at 1336 Walnut street, living a quiet and methodical life, with few pleasures or divertisements. Her closest confidant is her constant companion, Miss Norris, a woman considerably younger than the heiress.

FATHER'S WILLING ASSISTANT.

Since the death of her husband some years ago Mrs. Walker, who is about 50 years old, had been her father's willing assistant. She devoted virtually all of her time to a study of the business of Powers & Weightman and to familiarizing herself with her father's property and its management.

Her home life is extremely simple. She rises at an early hour and breakfasts immediately. Business engrosses all of her attention throughout the day, her practice having been to divide her time between her home and the office of Powers & Weightman.

In going about she uses automobiles of the electric type. She dines at 6 each evening and except for Miss Norris seldom has company at her dinner table.

COL. JOLLY WILL GO TO LAFAYETTE

Special Pension Examiner is Transferred to New Field of Work

Col. J. H. Jolly, for nearly four years stationed in Fort Wayne as special pension examiner with offices in the third floor of the government building, has been transferred to a new field of work, and will leave Thursday for Lafayette.

For more than twenty years Col. Jolly has been connected with the pension bureau, and the greater portion of this time has been devoted to what is known as "field work," traveling about the country making investigations bearing upon intricacies in pension applications. He is one of the veterans of the bureau, and his record has been of exceptionally high merit.

The work in and about Fort Wayne has been so nearly completed that for the present the department does not consider it necessary to maintain a special examiner here, and the office will be closed temporarily.

INSURANCE MEN ORGANIZE.

The leading life insurance agents of Fort Wayne, held a meeting Monday afternoon in the office of J. L. Scott and organized the Northern Indiana Underwriters' association, which will be affiliated with the National Association of Life Underwriters. The association will include all the agents in the northern part of the state who represent level premium companies. Clark Fairbank was elected president and J. E. Beahler secretary. The members who signed the roll yesterday were: C. Fairbanks, general agent of the Penn Mutual; C. W. Orr, manager of the Aetna; W. P. Cooper, general agent of the New York Life; D. C. Fisher, general agent of the Mutual Life; J. L. Scott, superintendent of the Prudential; E. R. Gesaman, general agent of the Connecticut Mutual; J. W. Cashman, general agent of the Union Mutual; W. A. Jones, general agent of the Union Central; J. F. Conway, superintendent of the Metropolitan Life, and J. E. Beahler, of the Travelers.

NOTICE.

I take this method to thank the officers and members of Ben Hur Court, No. 15, for their kindness and promptness for payment of policy in full for $2,500, within thirty days after my husband—S. A. Woods' death.

MRS. MARY A. WOODS, Wife.
